BERNHARDT'S "GOLDEN VOICE" STILLED FOREVER; DEATH BRINGS GRIEF TO ENTIRE THEATER WORLD

Hughes Pleads for Good Faith Between Nations

END TO SUSPICION AND TO DISTRUST NEEDED, HE SAYS

Removal of Every Remnant of Hatred to Cure Ills of Nations Sought by Secretary.

ASSERTS MERE FORMAL ARRANGEMENTS FUTILE

Declares in Statement in Chile Pan-American Conference Should "Buttress Foundations of Amity."

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, March 26.—A plea that nations get themselves forcibly to the task of removing every remnant of suspicion, distrust and hatred, and earnestly seek the cure for their ills, which is found only in friendship and good faith, was made tonight by Secretary Hughes in a message to the fifth Pan-American conference in Santiago, Chile, delivered by Ambassador Henry P. Fletcher, head of the delegation from the United States. Mere formal arrangements between nations, the message said, are futile in the absence of good will.

The assertion was made that the conference should "buttress the foundation of unity" and take full advantage of its opportunities in that direction. The real value of the conference was declared to rest in the fact that it generated facts of mutual understanding and friendly interest, supplying the motive power by which injurious influences might be overcome.

Hughes' Statement.

The statement follows: "It is with the deepest regret that I have found it impossible, in accordance with the courteous invitation of the government of Chile, to attend the opening of the fifth Pan-American conference, and I desire to extend my most cordial greetings to the representatives of the republics of the Western Hemisphere who have assembled on this auspicious occasion.

Cure in Good Faith.

"All problems find solution among those who desire to be friendly and just, and the present imperative duty of nations is to seek the cure in good faith.

ADDITIONAL VENIRE OF JURORS DRAWN FOR INNES TRIAL

Available Panels Exhausted in Securing Eleven of Twelve to Try Nelms Mail Fraud Charge.

Hearing of testimony in the case of Victor E. Innes, charged with using the mails to defraud Mrs. Eloise Nelms Dennis, will begin in United States district court Tuesday morning as soon as one more juror can be impaneled after court convenes at 10 o'clock.

Despite several attempts of attorneys for defense to avoid going to trial, the case was called Monday, and 11 jurors impaneled. The available supply of jurors was exhausted in selecting these 11, so the case was continued until 10 o'clock Tuesday, giving time to draw other jurors from which to select the one more necessary.

Delay for Mrs. Innes.

The case of Mrs. Ida May Innes, wife of Victor Innes, jointly indicted with him on the same charge, was continued at the request of District Attorney Clint W. Hager, who stated that he had instituted proceedings to determine the physical condition of Mrs. Innes and whether or not she

JAMES M. RUSHIN DEAD IN BOSTON

Grand Lodge of Masons to Attend Funeral of Venerable Grand Treasurer of Order.

Word was received in Atlanta Monday morning of the death in Boston, Ga., of James M. Rushin, retired Baptist minister and one of the best known and most prominent figures in Georgia Masonry.

Dr. Rushin was 85 years old at the time of his death, having been born on July 15, 1838. He was a veteran of the civil war and for many years was one of the best beloved ministers among the Baptists of the state. His wife died a number of years ago and he is survived by no children, their only child having been born and died during the years of the war between the states, never being seen by his father.

On Christmas Eve last, Dr. Rushin was run over by an automobile and seriously injured. His right leg had been failing for some time and it is said that he stepped behind a backing car, the accident being described as entirely unavoidable. He was badly hurt, being crushed in the side and his friends did not expect him to recover at that time. However, he apparently regained some of his strength, but a recent relapse resulted in his death.

Dr. Rushin was for many years grand master of the Grand Lodge, F. & A. M. of Georgia. He was also grand chaplain of the Grand Lodge of Royal and Select Masters of Georgia. Joe P. Boykin, grand master for Georgia, has called out the Grand Lodge for the funeral which will be held, with full Masonic honors, at Boston on Wednesday, at 10:30 a. m.

FUNERAL PLANS NOT BEEN MADE

Thomasville, Ga., March 26.—(Special.)—Rev. J. M. Rushin died at his home in Boston this afternoon at 3 o'clock after an illness of a few days. Mr. Rushin was one of Thomas county's oldest and best known citizens and is known to Masons all over the state as for a number of years an officer of the grand lodge of Georgia. The J. H. Rushin lodge of Masons of this city was named in his honor. Funeral arrangements are not yet known but are expected to be on Wednesday.

HEAD OF RUSSIAN CATHOLIC CHURCH SENTENCED TO DIE

Archbishop Zepliak and 16 Priests Are Convicted of Opposing Soviet Government.

EXECUTION OF DEATH SENTENCES IS STAYED

Five Priests Are Sentenced to 10 Years and Eight to 3 Years' Imprisonment.

Moscow, March 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—Archbishop Zepliak, head of the Russian Catholic church in Russia, and all the sixteen priests on trial with him charged with opposing the soviet government, were found guilty today. Archbishop Zepliak and Vicar-General Butchkevich were sentenced to death. The central executive committee ordered a stay of execution of the death sentences.

Eight other prisoners received three year sentences, while two were given a six months' term, the latter including one choir boy, whose sentence was commuted.

Warsaw, March 26.—A resolution calling on the Polish government to make all efforts to obtain the release of Archbishop Zepliak and the other Roman Catholic priests on trial in Moscow was passed unanimously by the Polish chamber of deputies Saturday.

Effort to Coach Witness in Court Charged by State

Allegation Serves to Enliven Hearing of the House of David Suit.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 26.—Charges by counsel for the plaintiffs, that an effort was being made by leaders of the Israelite House of David to coach defense witnesses in the $80,000 suit of John Hansell and his wife against Benjamin Purnell, head of the Boston Harbor colony, enlivened this afternoon's session of the case before Federal Judge John E. Sater.

Following accusations by Attorney Walter M. Nelson, representing the Hansells, that a representative of the suit was signaling to a witness on the stand, Judge Sater announced that if there appeared to be proof of the charges he would conduct contempt proceedings against the accused.

The charges were made during the cross-examination of Carl Turk, of South Bend, a defense witness. Attorney Nelson charged Ada Ross, a girl from the Boston Harbor colony, sitting with attorneys for the defense, was signaling to the witness. The witness, the girl and the attorneys for Purnell, hotly denied the accusations. Nelson declared he would prove his assertions if permitted to call spectators as witnesses and the judge announced his willingness to institute contempt proceedings if "reasonable proof" were offered that coaching had been resorted to.

The charges of Attorney Nelson were the third similar accusations he has made during the day. Previous to the fact that Mrs. Amanda Keenan, another defense witness, had in her purse several slips of paper to which she referred occasionally. The papers, submitted to the court, bore the words: "A wise guy" and "ask Esther what she knows about it."

No effort was made in court to learn the meaning of the writing, but Esther Hansell, daughter-in-law of the plaintiffs and their chief witness, and also a sister of Mrs. Keenan, told newspapermen the sentences were part of a House of David code.

SHIPPING BOARD URGED TO RETIRE FROM BUSINESS

Scrap All Inferior Vessels and Sell Remaining Tonnage to American Citizens, Is Advised.

Washington, March 26.—A recommendation that the shipping board retire from business, scrap all inferior vessels and sell its remaining tonnage to American citizens "without any restriction" was the basis of a program submitted today by a committee of the American Steamship Owners' association.

The association further recommended that all vessels not sold after a reasonable lapse of time should be scrapped, and went on record as being of the opinion that "an American merchant marine in foreign trade can not be built up through government operation."

Committee's Report.

The association's committee which conferred today with board officials, is the first of three similar representative bodies invited to present suggestions regarding a new policy for the board. The other committees are to appear later this week.

"Referring to the questions propounded by the shipping board to the American Steamship Owners' association, I beg to advise you that it is impossible for the association, on a week's notice to answer the questions in detail, or to formulate any comprehensive plan with respect to the disposition of shipping board vessels which, however, is but one of the many problems involved.

More Industries Meeting Today

Temporary Executive Committee of "Georgians, Inc." to Plan Statewide Macon Conference.

The temporary executive committee of "Georgians, Incorporated," meets in the Ansley hotel at 12:30 o'clock today to arrange a program and set the date for the state-wide conference to be held in Macon at which a permanent organization will be formed to bring new industrial enterprises into Georgia.

The meeting today will give official direction to the movement which began at a banquet here a week ago Saturday and aims to increase Georgia's industrial wealth by bringing northern and eastern capital into the state. More than 200 officials and leading citizens of 52 north Georgia cities, who attended the banquet as guests of the Georgia Railway and Power company, voted to organize "Georgians, Incorporated," and elected the temporary executive committee which meets today.

Support Is Assured.

Since that meeting, civic organizations in towns and cities of all sections have expressed their support.

HARDING IS URGED TO ABANDON PLAN FOR WORLD COURT

President Had Planned to Make This Issue Big Feature of His Proposed Western Speaking Tour.

EVEN SENATOR LODGE MAY OPPOSE PROGRAM

Fear Charge G. O. P. Is trying to Slip in League of Nations Through Back Door.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

Washington, March 26.—Because of opposition among powerful republicans, President Harding may shortly be compelled to drop his proposal to join the international court of justice.

He had planned to make this the big feature of his western speaking tour next summer. But there are reports from St. Augustine that the court proposal has aroused serious opposition not only from such irascible as Hiram Johnson, but among the regular party leaders who fear that Harding will be taunted with trying to slip into the league of nations through the back door.

Some are even predicting that Senator Lodge will oppose the court plan. If this proves to be true, Harding's suggestion, probably will never come out of the senate foreign relations committee alive. The irascible republicans now dominate the committee and if Lodge decides to bury the court scheme, he will see that the three party vacancies on the committee are filled by senators pledged to vote with him.

Suspicious of Ruse.

One reason for the hostility is behind the court project. From the day Hughes became secretary of state, a large group of irascible republicans have feared that sooner or later he would attempt to join the league of nations by some ruse. That is why they have viewed the court proposal with so much suspicion.

Many democrats believe that the pro-league and anti-league republicans are moving toward a head-on collision.

Baby Deserted In Athens Hotel; Parents Sought

Month-Old Girl Finds Temporary Refuge in Athens Hospital Monday.

BY HUGH J. ROWE.

Athens, Ga., March 26.—(Special.)—Somewhere in this land, perhaps in Georgia, there sobbed all Sunday night a mere slip of a girl—a mother.

Somewhere also there was a man who felt that he had done something, was responsible for something that cowed him, that made him not want to look into the eyes of a single person living—a coward, a quitter, a heartbreaker, a deserter.

Sunday afternoon the Seaboard vestibule came into Athens several minutes late and from it stepped a short skirted, was faced girl, 17 or 18 years old; in her arms was a tiny bit of humanity wrapped in a blue and white cloak of woolen. At her side was a man, called that for the intent of the story anyway. The two walked to the street curbing where the man halted a taxi, he put the girl and her light burden, which evidently weighed so heavily on the conscience of the two, into the taxi, the driver asked the man if he were going and received a negative answer.

EIGHTH NATIONAL FOOD SHOW OPENS WITH SIMS' SPEECH

Beautiful Exhibits at City Auditorium Advertise Manufacturers of America's Food Supplies.

The National Food show opened at the city auditorium Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock for the eighth exhibition of its kind ever held in America and the first to be held in Atlanta.

Mayor Sims formally opened the show with an address in which he emphasized the need for exhibitions of this kind in Atlanta to encourage proper appreciation of food. Others who spoke were Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith, official of the Atlanta City Federation of Women's Clubs; Alfred C. Newell, president of the chamber of commerce; F. E. Kemper, president of the National Association of Retail Grocers; J. P. Langan, president of the National Food show; Frank Malone, chairman of the executive committee, and J. H. Bullock, president of the Atlanta Retail Grocers' association.

Cooking Demonstrated.
Many civic and charitable organizations are co-operating with the dealers to make the show a success. Demonstrations in cooking under the supervision of experts are given at a number of the booths.

Among the contests to be held are to select the prettiest baby, the most popular girl and the best pies. The registration for the pie baking contest.

MRS. ANNA BUZZI INDICTED BY JURY

Woman Is Held for First Degree Murder in Connection With the Death of Frederick Schneider.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

New York, March 26.—Mrs. Anna Buzzi was indicted today for first degree murder in connection with the slaying February 26 of Frederick Schneider, wealthy Bronx contractor, with whom she had lived.

Schneider was shot to death the evening of February 26 as he drove his automobile along a lonely road in the Bronx. Witnesses told of seeing a woman leave the car after shots had been fired, and Mrs. Buzzi was held for a time as a material witness.

The witnesses were unable to identify her, however, and she was freed, only to be rearrested when the pistol, said to have been used in the slaying, was traced to her brother-in-law, William Ture. Ture broke down and told the police he had given Mrs. Buzzi the weapon, declaring she later had confessed to him that she shot Schneider because he was planning to leave her for another woman.

ROME NOW MECCA FOR STATESMEN AND CAPITALISTS

Mussolini Now Becoming More and More Power to be Reckoned With in International Affairs.

CONFERENCE IS HELD BY GARY AND STINNES

Foreign Minister of Belgium on Way to Rome to Discuss the Ruhr Situation With Premier.

Rome, March 26.—All roads lead to Rome where Premier Benito Mussolini, who is becoming more and more a power to be reckoned with in international affairs, holds forth.

The Italian capital Monday became the mecca of statesmen and capitalists of several nations, men who are apparently attempting to relieve the critical situation brought about by the French occupation of the Ruhr.

Confers With Stinnes.
E. H. Gary, president of the board of directors of the United States Steel corporation, conferred at the Grand hotel with Hugo Stinnes, the wealthiest man in Germany, who owns extensive holdings in the Ruhr.

Although no announcement as to the conversation between Stinnes and Gary was made, the two iron-masters undoubtedly talked concerning the troublesome European situation.

Gary's stay here is limited because the Mauretania, on which he is cruising, is about to leave Naples, where it has been for several days. For this reason, the financier did not confer with Premier Mussolini, who is now in Paris.

Foreign Minister Jasper, Belgium, is en route to Italy to confer with Mussolini on the Ruhr situation. According to well founded reports, both Italy and Belgium are becoming increasingly suspicious of the French purpose of the Ruhr.

Belgium Dissatisfied.
Belgium, it is said, has been dissatisfied with the accomplishments in the Ruhr for some time, and Italy, who never did actively engage in the Ruhr occupation, has doubted the wisdom of the occupation from the beginning.

Upshaw Picks Bryan to Run For President

Georgia Congressman Predicts Defeat of Harding at Next Election.

Charlotte, N. C., March 26.—(Special.)—William Jennings Bryan, in the face of the enactment of so many of his pioneer principles and his stainless personal character and prohibition championship, is the strongest man that the democratic party can nominate for the presidency in 1924.

This is the opinion of Congressman W. D. Upshaw, of the fifth congressional district of Georgia, and known throughout the country as "the Georgia cyclone," who addressed a large crowd here tonight on the subject, "Americanism or the Job."

As a prelude to his address Mr. Upshaw, by previous request, discussed the various presidential possibilities for the democratic nomination in 1924.

Referring to Mr. Bryan's chances for success, should he be named by the democratic party to lead the ticket, Mr. Upshaw declared that he would rather see him nominated and elected than any other man in America.

Republicans For Him.

"I heard a dry republican from Ohio say that if William Jennings Bryan was nominated in the face of the enactment of so many of his pioneer principles and his stainless personal character and prohibition championship, he would sweep the field, especially if President Harding is renominated, and Mr. Harding's renomination, of course, is practically assured," the speaker said.

WHISPERS LINES OF GREAT ROLES AS DEATH NEARS

With Her Goes Last Link Binding the Present to Mighty Playwrights of Past in France.

PLANS FOR IMPOSING FUNERAL TO BE MADE

End Comes Within Church, Extreme Uncction Being Administered Before Her Passing.

SENDS MESSAGE TO U. S.
Paris, March 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—"I am deeply touched with the sympathetic interest of my beloved American friends."

This was Sarah Bernhardt's message to her friends overseas, given the Associated Press at 6:45 o'clock this evening by her secretary Madame Normand.

BY HUDSON HAWLEY

United News Staff Correspondent.
Paris, March 26.—"The golden voice," which for more than 60 years has charmed the audiences of the civilized world, is at last stilled.

For Bernhardt, the incomparable, greatest and bravest "young woman" of her century, has at length passed on, radiant and beautiful and unafraid in spite of her 78 years. In staid and among stage-lovers the world over, the most famous actress of two generations is mourned. And with her goes the last link binding the present to the mighty playwrights of France's past, to Victor Hugo, to Goethe, to the whimsical Rostand.

Bernhardt was unconscious when the revered dead, the famous writers whom she had interpreted for the world and whose busts and portraits adorned her home, beckoned the tragedienne to join them after tenderly awaiting to claim her. She passed at 8 p. m. Monday.

The actress died within the church. The extreme unction—the last sacrament—was administered shortly before her death by the Rev. Rostand de St. Francis De Sales church. "To ward the end of the service, the priest said, 'She only half recognized me, hardly understood, and was unable to talk.'"

Prayers For Bernhardt.
Outside her home on Boulevard Pereire, in the gorgeous twilight, a group of people, of high and low stations in life, gazed at the house as if awe-struck. Simple bretonne nurse-maids joined beautiful Parisiennes in mumbling and whispering their rosaries, a prayer for the great prodigal daughter who had now returned to the bosom of the church.

Forty-five minutes before the immortal passed, she sent her secretary, Madame Normand, with a farewell message to her admirers in America.

To the people of America she addressed these words:

"I am deeply touched with the sympathy and interest of my beloved

PEACE MEETING TO BE RESUMED

Conference With Turks
Will Be Held at Constantinople About April 12.
Curzon Not to Attend.

Paris, March 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—The peace conference aimed at bringing about peace with Turkey will be resumed at Constantinople about April 12, according to the best information available in diplomatic quarters here.

Lord Curzon, the British foreign secretary, will not take part in this renewal of the Lausanne meeting. Great Britain will be represented by Lieutenant General Sir Charles Harington, commander of the allied forces at Constantinople, and by Sir Horace Humble, British high commissioner in France by General Pella, the French high commissioner, and the United States by Rear Admiral Mark L. Bristol, as observer.

A message received in Paris from Ahmet Fasha, the Turkish foreign minister, says Turks hope a definite peace will be made at Constantinople but that the tariff act will be held in abeyance by the tariff commission until all questions involved can be discussed with President Harding. Announcement of this decision was made by Chairman Marvin today in replying to a letter from H. E. Miles, chairman of the fair tariff league, the commission head asserting that whenever the commission does act, it will "proceed thoroughly and energetically."

New Tariff Body To Discuss Plans With President

Will Wait Until Conference
With Harding Before Determining Policy.

Washington, March 26.—Determination of the general policy governing investigations under flexible provisions of the tariff act will be held in abeyance by the tariff commission until all questions involved can be discussed with President Harding. Announcement of this decision was made by Chairman Marvin today in replying to a letter from H. E. Miles, chairman of the fair tariff league, the commission head asserting that whenever the commission does act, it will "proceed thoroughly and energetically."

The commission has undertaken investigation of the rates on 17 commodities, but all of these were made the basis of complaint and the investigation was ordered only after instructions had been received from the president to consider them.

Inquiries into controversial rates were held off, the decision to take up only rates of minor importance resulting in criticism by the fair tariff league.

Chairman Marvin said in connection with the plan to await the president's further instructions, that there had been differences of interpretation of the commission's powers as the agent of the executive and that he felt it was a better course to talk over the whole situation with Mr. Harding. He added that it appeared there would be tests made of the provisions of the law delegating to the president the right to change the rates fixed by congress even though within the prescribed limits and all members of the commission desired to be sure of the ground they are to traverse.

$25,000 A YEAR ENOUGH FOR CLOTHES

some way of checking up when friend wife begs too many quarters for the gas meter.

It will be comforting to Alf and Oscar, too, to know that $50,000 for coats are really not needed by their wives, unless, of course, they want to get their pictures in the paper.

But leaving the coats aside, here is how Collins makes up the $25,000 clothes budget for the 1923 woman: Two dresses a week for nine months of the year at $300 a dress—total $1,800. This leaves out Lent and two hot summer months when the "maisons" will be wearing a bathing suit. The remaining $7,000 can go for shoes and stockings, gloves and hats. These ought to be a hat for every costume, of course, and as for gloves and stockings, Collins is willing to leave that to the taste of Mrs. Alf and Mrs. Oscar.

It ought to be said for Collins that he admits a woman can dress for much less than $25,000, but certainly not the wife of a bank clerk or of a plumber. He places a $6,000 minimum for women who are willing to wear Monday's dress on Saturday or who will cut down the $300 raincoat to $50.

Miss Hoyt agrees that the $25,000 figure could be cut down somewhat, but not much. Here is the very bottom limit of what a woman ought to buy for spring alone, says Miss Hoyt:

One "town and country" dress.
One tailored suit.
One three-piece costume.
Two afternoon frocks.
One dinner gown.
Three evening dresses.
Three hats.
A cape or two.
A negligee.
Total, $2,000 to $25,000. This takes no account of coats, footwear or hats.

Mrs. D. M. Watkins, of Forrest county, is the first woman in Mississippi to hold office as county treasurer.

ONE BANK ROBBER KILLED IN FIGHT

Three Remaining Members of His Party Are Surrounded and Their Capture Is Expected.

Tulsa, Okla., March 26.—An unidentified bank robber was shot and killed and the remaining members of his party are surrounded by a posse from Mannford, near here, after the robbery of the Mannford State bank today. No estimate of the loss has been made.

Rob Jewelry Store.
New York, March 26.—Four bandits today hurled a cobble stone through the double window put up by David Gumbiner, after his Broadway jewelry store had been robbed of $20,000 three years ago and, amid a spray of bullets, fled in a bright yellow taxicab with $25,000 worth of gems.

The police, aroused by a series of similar robberies within the last few days, flashed a general alarm for every police in the vicinity to halt, with drawn revolvers every yellow taxicab he encountered. Soon a taxi was found with empty jewelry trays on the floor. The driver was arrested, while the two men loitering near the scene of the robbery were arrested on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. The chauffeur gave his name as Abraham Rubenstein. He was charged with aiding the bandits.

His story was that he borrowed the taxi from a friend and was driving down town when he was hailed by three men whom he took aboard as passengers. He was seized by the sight of a revolver and did as he was told. Rubenstein claimed a taxi bill of $8.40 was due him.

Albert Kofzer and William Burckell were the other two prisoners. The series of jewelry store robberies began last Thursday. Today was the fifth.

The latest holdup was perhaps the most daring of them all. It occurred at Broadway and 105th street, during the noon hour, when the streets were filled with pedestrians.

Income Tax Rate May Be Reduced To 3 Per Cent

Surprising Increase in Receipts Is Announced by New York Collector.

New York, March 26.—A surprising increase in 1922 income tax receipts all over the country may bring a reduction of next year's rate to 3 per cent, was the forecast ventured by Frank K. Bowers, internal revenue collector in the Manhattan district.

In support of his belief, Mr. Bowers cited that treasury officials had expected a 20 per cent reduction in receipts this year, because of reductions in the surtax.

Instead of a decrease, however, it is now apparent that there has been a gain of 12 per cent in collections. Bowers stated. In Manhattan alone the increase thus far is $11,000,000 and proportionate increases are reported from 63 of 64 collection districts.

A diminished total was expected, he pointed out, because the surtax rate was reduced from 65 to 50, and because the surtax began this year at $8,000 instead of $5,000.

Assistant Secretary of Treasury Gilbert, at Washington, declined to comment on Bowers' forecast that the 4 per cent rate would be cut.

WISLER RENOUNCES CLAIM TO FORTUNE LEFT BY WOMAN

Buffalo, N. Y., March 26.—Claim to the property of Mrs. Marion E. Lotz, formerly of Detroit, was renounced today by Carl G. Wisler, of Buffalo, sole beneficiary under the woman's will. Mrs. Lotz died last December from poison taken with suicidal intent on Thanksgiving eve. On her death-bed Mrs. Lotz repeatedly said "Carl was responsible for it all," and expressed a desire to make a new will. She died before her lawyer could draft a new instrument.

Mr. Wisler's action leaves the will in contest. Two brothers and a sister and Galvin W. Appleby, who says he is Mrs. Lotz's second husband, are claimants to the property reputed to be worth $30,000.

ROME NOW MECCA FOR STATESMEN

Irreconcilables in the United States senate, is now en route to Rome where he will have an audience with Mussolini.

The pilgrimages to Rome by leading financiers and statesmen is significant inasmuch as it leads to the conclusion that Mussolini has forced the world to recognize Italy as a potent factor in the world situation and the scene of international conferences is shifting from London and Paris to the Italian capital.

Socialists Return.
Brussels, March 26.—The Belgian socialist commission has returned from the Ruhr but without any new suggestions for a settlement of the reparations dispute between the Franco-Belgians and the Germans.

M. Wauters, a member of the delegation, said the occupational forces had not taken brutal measures and the population did not complain of the conduct of the troops, but that the German workmen said they were unwilling to work under bayonets. The workers favor negotiations on the conditions that the troops leave the factories and railroad stations and the integrity of the territory be guaranteed.

M. Wauters added that the German socialists were in agreement with the policy of the Berlin government but for far different reasons than animated the latter.

Arouses Ire.
Berlin, March 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—The conference on the Ruhr situation which the German socialist deputies have been holding in Berlin since Saturday with socialist delegates from England, France, Italy and Belgium have aroused the ire of the Pan-Germans and other irreconcilables, who stand for continuance of resistance to the French at any price. The Deutsche Zeitung wants to know who gave foreign socialists permission to come here, and who empowered the German deputies to go over Chancellor Cuno's head.

Vorwarts announcing that the conference are expected to close tonight, says that the results can not be made known until the delegations return to their respective countries and report to their party boards.

Chancellor Cuno is confined to bed with a cold which is given as the reason for the postponement from today until tomorrow of the meeting of the Reichstag's foreign relations committee. In connection with this postponement the Allgemeine Zeitung reveals that the committee has for a long time been unable to conduct secret sessions because the new communist member declines to treat the sittings as confidential.

A declaration to this effect by the communist member at the first meeting of the committee he attended occasioned the reply from the government that it would no longer make confidential statements at these meetings.

ing, according to the paper, which adds: "Thus the committee is rendered virtually impotent."

It is said that the chancellor has recently been summoning the party leaders, excepting the communists to quell a sufficient number of seats in the house, they are entitled to one member of the committee and nobody is in a position to oust him under the present regulations.

SALVATION ARMY CAMPAIGN OPENS

Employees of Fourth National Bank Contribute $500 Apart From Bank's Donation.

At the beginning of the canvass of larger offices and manufacturing plants of the city in behalf of the Salvation Army $40,000 campaign this morning, announcement is made that a number of the larger companies have already completed their collection with excellent results.

Employees of the Fourth National bank contributed over $500 apart from the bank donation. Miss Mabel Robson, woman's teller, was appointed as agent of the subscription fund, and after seeing all employees, she reported back to the committee that fine responses and been secured from every employee.

Woolworth store employees have also finished their subscription. Over $35 was donated by girls in the two stores of the organization, which brought from Chairman Preston Arkwright words of the highest commendation.

The office force of the United States veterans bureau has reported $200 from this office. Other organizations which sent for their subscription lists last week are making headway on their office campaigns.

Every large plant and commercial organization which has not already secured its blanks will receive them in Monday morning's mail, with the request that some member of the organization be appointed to solicit subscriptions from employees.

Last minute assignments of territory to teams which will canvass the business section of the city beginning one week from today were made Saturday evening. The committee from the woman's auxiliary of Wesley Memorial church were assigned the Whitehall street block from Alabama to Hunter on the Rich street side. The committee from the Central Congregational church took the other side of the street.

ATLANTIC COAST LINE IMPROVING PROPERTY

Announces Inauguration of Program for Expanding $26,000,000.

Wilmington, N. C., March 26.—The Atlantic Coast Line Railroad company, Wilmington, N. C., which announced the inauguration last fall of a program for expenditures of approximately $15,000,000, has doubled its plans and a total of approximately $26,000,000 will be expended in providing improvements and facilities to overcome retrenchments made during the period of the war and to care for the increased business induced by the growth of the territory which it serves.

The principal item involved in this expenditure are: Creation of new shops and shop equipment, 30,000 tons of 100-pound rail and grade reductions.

Double tracking between Richmond, Va., and Jacksonville, Fla., including automatic signals and interlocking plants, which are now under active construction and when completed will give the Atlantic Coast Line the only double track route between the east and Florida, protected throughout with automatic signals and interlocking plants.

Other improvements will include additional yards, yard tracks and passing tracks, and new equipment, which includes 65 locomotives, 101 steel passenger train cars and 5,321 freight train cars.

All this equipment should be in service by November 1, 1923.

Sentenced to Prison.

Manila, March 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—Paul D. Rogers, ex-governor of Sulu province, P. I., and Juan Milares, former cashier of the Jole branch of the Philippine National bank, were sentenced today to three years imprisonment for obtaining by fraud more than $50,000 from the Philippine National bank.

Pretty Heiress Weds Childhood Sweetheart Soon

Miss Dellora Angell to Marry Lester Norris, Chicago Cartoonist.

Pasadena, Calif., March 26.—The wedding of Miss Dellora Angell, heiress to nearly $40,000,000 to her childhood sweetheart, Lester Norris, son of an undertaker at St. Charles, Ill., will take place "sometime this week," according to the latest information from the Angell winter home at Pasadena, a suburb.

L. E. Angell, father of the bride-to-be, who inherits the estate of the late John W. Gates, has told newspaper inquirers that much, but has declined to give specific information as to the time and place. A persistent rumor, however, has it that the event will take place at the Angell residence sometime Wednesday.

The bridegroom-elect, who is a cartoonist at Chicago, is a guest at the Angell home, having reached southern California last Friday but interviewers have not succeeded in cornering him.

In fact all of the principals of the prospective wedding are difficult to locate, virtually all inquiries at the Angell residence for any of them being met with the familiar "not at home."

But the father, once reported as opposed to the marriage, has admitted it now is a certainty and that, with the arrival of the bridegroom, after ostensibly starting from Chicago to New Orleans, has put him in the city.

Angell's newspaper circles that Miss Angell was incorrectly quoted last week when she was reported to have said: "Certainly we do not intend to marry right away."

FORMER FEDERAL ATTORNEY IS HELD ON BRIBE CHARGE

New York, March 26.—E. Paul Yaselli, a former assistant United States attorney, was held on $1,000 bond today on a charge of passing a $200 bribe to Edward Crabbe, a prohibition agent, in the presence of Joseph K. King, another agent.

The complaint alleges that the money was passed to Crabbe in an attempt to have the latter make a favorable report which would prevent revocation of the permit of a drug corporation whose books failed to account for a shortage of 150 gallons of denatured alcohol.

Yaselli insisted the money had been extorted by the agents and that after he had passed the money the money he threatened to complain to Acting Director Yellowley, whereupon, he says, Crabbe and King arrested him on the bribery charge.

SALVATION ARMY GIVEN $50 EARNED BY LIFE CONVICT

Chicago, March 26.—Fifteen years ago, Peter N. Mathison was sentenced to the Minnesota state prison for life for the murder of a partner in his logging business.

During the past five months, Mathison now known as "No. 2321," has earned $50. He sent this money to the Salvation Army here Monday with a note saying: "I hope it will at least give a good meal to six poor families."

POLITICS IS BLAMED FOR ATTACK ON J. P.

Shreveport, La., March 26.—U. W. Mitchings, justice of peace at Bossier City, where he has been active politically for several years, was attacked by five armed men late last night as he was about to enter his home and was severely injured about the head as they attempted to put him in an auto, according to police reports today.

Both Mitchings and his wife, who answered his cries for help and found him unconscious in the street, recognized some of his assailants, they said. At least two of them were "masked."

Mitchings attributed the attack to political differences since he had heard of some threats by what he termed the "opposition," but he said no one in particular had been threatened, so far as he knew. Mitchings was rendered unconscious by a blow from the butt of a pistol. The attackers fled when Mrs. Mitchings and two others in the house emerged.

HUSTON THOMPSON URGED BY WILSON

Former President Wants
Friend Named to U. S.
Senate—Sends Telegram to Colorado Governor.

Denver, Colo., March 26.—Woodrow Wilson today asked Governor W. E. Sweet, of Colorado, to appoint Huston Thompson, democrat, to a seat in the United States senate to succeed Samuel D. Nicholson, republican, who died Saturday night. Thompson now is a member of the federal trade commission.

Governor Sweet announced he had received the following telegram from the former president:

"I trust you will not think it an unwarranted liberty if I express the hope that you will select my friend Huston Thompson for the vacant seat in the senate."

Thompson is a graduate of Princeton. He was one of the founders of the first Woodrow Wilson for President clubs in Colorado. At the last democratic national convention at San Francisco he was credited with being one of President Wilson's personal representatives. He was a hardy supporter of William C. McKelvey's candidacy for the presidential nomination at San Francisco.

Governor Sweet said he did not expect to make a hasty appointment. Politicians here pointed out it was the first time that former President Wilson had come out openly for any candidate for office since his retirement from the white house.

According to Thompson's friends, he and the former president were closely associated at Princeton. Thompson is 47 years old.

Druid Hills Baptist Men's Bible Class Has Banquet Monday

Marking completion of its new building the Men's Bible class of the Druid Hills Baptist church, at Ponce de Leon and Highland avenues, held a banquet Monday night. Approximately 100 men were present.

Short addresses were made by Dr. F. C. McConnell, the pastor; Hardy Padgett, superintendent of the Sunday school; Louie D. Newton, editor of The Christian Index; Prof. J. M. Collier, Morgan Blake and others.

William May, chairman of the social committee, was toastmaster. Z. A. Snipes is class president. Recent growth in its membership necessitated the erection of a special building near the main Sunday school building.

SUICIDE EFFORTS FAIL Young Widow Leaves Grady; Others' Condition Bad.

Mrs. Fannie E. xter, 23, young widow, who Sunday afternoon attempted to end her own life by taking poison, was discharged from the Grady hospital Monday. Prolonged illness of herself and little 3-year-old son, William, was given as the cause for her despondency.

She took the poison at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. T. Ansley, 123 Bedford street, with whom she was living.

D. W. Cooper, 22, of 25 West Peachtree street, and Charles W. Mears, 23, of 156 Plum street, both of whom took poison in suicidal attempts Sunday night, were reported in serious condition Monday.

Cooper took bichloride of mercury while Mears drank a large quantity of lysol. Cooper stated he was despondent over illness, while Mears refused to say why he tried to kill himself.

JUDGE HUMPHRIES TO TRY TAXICAB SWINDLE TODAY

Selection of a jury in the case of James Carlton Lee, charged with larceny after trust, cheating and swindling and violating the state securities law, was completed before Judge John D. Humphries' division of Fulton superior court recessed at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.

The trial was begun Monday morning. At 9:30 o'clock this morning it will be resumed, with the opening testimony by state witnesses. Attorney H. A. Allen is counsel for the defense. Lee is now being tried on an indictment charging violation of the securities law.

The charges against Lee are the outgrowth of his alleged activities in organizing the "Black and White Taxicab company." He was recently returned to Atlanta from New York, where he was arrested by detectives engaged by persons who had signed a $10,000 bond which he forfeited here through his failure to appear for trial.

BABY IS FOUND IN ATHENS HOTEL

No Trace of Mother
Found in Atlanta

No trace of the woman of mystery that Sunday afternoon abandoned a month-old-babe in a room at the Georgian hotel, in Athens, had been found by Atlanta police at a late hour Monday night, although plainclothes officers have been detailed to co-operate with officials of Athens.

office it was remarked upon as being unusual, but no investigation was made.

However, after about two hours the woman was seen to go out of the hotel without her tiny bundle.

Still, nothing was thought until 8:30 when Mr. Cannon, manager of the hotel, heard a wee voice crying in room 206, and opening the door, which was not locked, found lying on the bed a month-old baby girl—and no mother in sight.

The little thing had been deserted, evidently a waif of humanity thrust, unwelcome, upon two thoughtless souls, and the hotel had only been used in a ruse to rid themselves of it.

A smiling little black-haired, blue-eyed tot it was, perfectly normal and not crying the slightest after being found.

Registered From Macon.

Then an investigation was begun. It was found that the woman had registered as Mrs. George Baker, Macon, Ga., in clear, easily legible handwriting. The driver of the taxi was found and he told the story about the man, and from his story came the supposition that the couple came to Athens over the S. A. L. from towards the Carolinas and that she registered from Macon falsely.

The same cabman stated that he saw the man at the depot just before the local train passed here, going north, about 8 o'clock, and from this it is supposed that the two caught this train out of the city again.

The woman is described as being five feet tall, light eyes, brown hair, and about 18 years old. The man was slim and wore a blue suit.

The hotel management took care of the little tot until Captain Curtis of the Salvation Army arrived, who took the little thing in charge and carried her to the General hospital where it is now being cared for.

She has been christened "Georgianna Baker," on account of the place where she was deserted, and she will be known by this name, so Miss McGinley, of the hospital, stated Monday morning when called to find out how she was.

"She's fine, just as sweet as she can be and such a good baby. I don't see how any woman, surely not her mother, could have left her," she said.

To Find Home in Athens.

Captain Curtis "took on" over her profusely and if the mother does not show up she will try and secure a home for her in some family around Athens.

The police are making an effort to locate the couple who left her here and to determine if they went off on the northbound train Sunday night.

COLLEGE ANNUAL MANAGERS PLAN CONVENTION HERE

Appointment of an entertainment committee and a finance committee to serve at the second southern convention to be held here in May, marked the final session of the College Annual Managers' association directors meeting Monday in the Ansley hotel. This organization was inaugurated with the purpose of improving the school and college publications published in Georgia and the south. During the early part of May representatives from all sections of the south will gather here to discuss "Annual" work.

The delegates to the directors meeting were entertained at luncheon in the pine room of the Ansley at 1 o'clock, and were addressed by Sumpter Marvin Kelley, of Emory university, president of the association, and Fred Houser, secretary of the Atlanta Convention bureau.

Letters have been sent to every school and college in the south. F. H. McClelland, of Georgia Tech, secretary of the association, announced urging them to send representatives to the convention in May. The association anticipates one of the largest conventions of its nature ever conducted.

TWO MEN ARRESTED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Is. O. Hall, of 95 Mongolia street, and John Randolph, of 105 Ponce de Leon avenue, were arrested Monday by Federal Prohibition Agent C. H. Parks, charging them with selling whisky and possessing whisky.

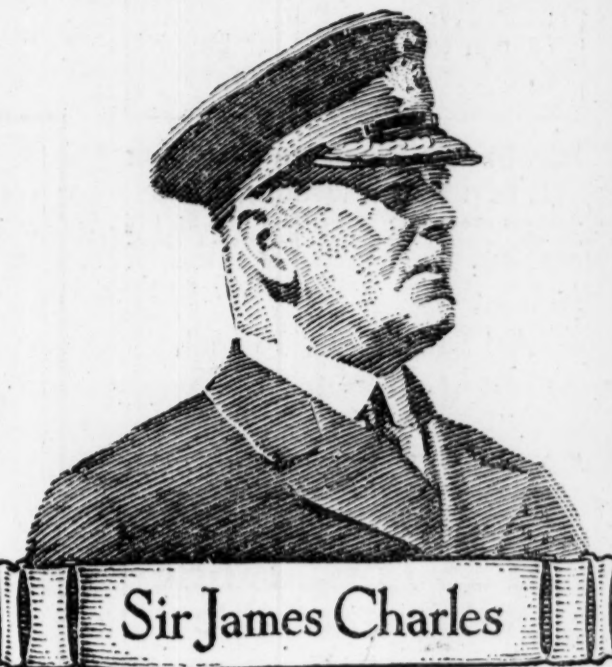

Agent Parks stated that he was in Is. O. Hall's place, 12 Piedmont avenue, when he observed Hall sell a pint of whisky to Randolph. He then arrested both men, charging Hall with selling whisky and Randolph with possessing whisky.

The men were turned over to the police with the option of making bond.

MAYOR APPROVES NEW BOOKKEEPING SYSTEM

Consideration of a new centralized bookkeeping plan for all municipal departments to be located at the city hall, was occupying Mayor Walter A. Sims' attention Monday. After a conference with City Comptroller B. Graham West, the mayor stated that he was much impressed with the plan which, he said, would greatly increase the efficiency of auditing the city's accounts.

The Commodore of the Cunard fleet, the Commander of the Aquitania, Sir James Charles, K. B. E., C. B., R. D., R. N. R.

Ships are but things of steel and machinery. It is the men in charge who count. On a Cunard liner, from bridge to engine room, you sail in the confidence that each post is in the hands of a man proven by experience worthy of his responsibilities. Some of the most outstanding figures in the world's merchant marine guide Cunard ships and their precious human cargo across the Atlantic.

Whether the ship be one of the De Luxe Express Cunarders, a 20,000 ton, or a Cabin Ship, the same experienced seamanship and the same iron discipline pervade the entire fleet of Cunarders, from the distinguished commanders to the alert, carefully trained deck boys.

WHY PIERCE-ARROW SALES have increased 228 per cent

OVER a span of years that measures nearly the entire lifetime of the automobile industry, there has developed a deep-rooted respect for the name Pierce-Arrow.

From the beginning, the makers of Pierce-Arrow definitely have sought this respect. They believed then, as now, that a product of uncommon quality—designed and built to excel—is bound to win preference. And they knew then, as now, that the price of this inevitable leadership would be ceaseless vigilance and a constant striving toward still higher attainment.

And so, in America, the name Pierce-Arrow has come to have an almost generic meaning. Unconsciously it springs to the lips of the man on the street as the descriptive term for the capsheaf of quality.

This widespread and acknowledged respect is now more pronounced than ever. It is reflected directly in the increasing public demand for the products which bear the Pierce-Arrow nameplate.

Specifically, this year's sales at this writing show an increase of 228% over those of the corresponding period of 1922.

An unmistakable expression of public confidence and preference—a confidence founded on the stability and integrity of the makers, and a preference based on the sheer merit of the product itself.

VIDETTE FARMERS PLAN BIG HOG SALE

Burke County People
Fast Are Learning Profits to Be Derived From Diversification.

Vidette, Ga., March 26.—(Special.) The farmers of the Vidette section of Burke county will hold a co-operative hog sale at Vidette on Thursday, March 29. The farmers of the entire section are being notified to have their surplus hogs at Vidette on the date mentioned and it is expected that they will make a very creditable showing. This sale will be under the supervision of County Agent E. B. Graham and H. P. Wheeler, of the State College of Agriculture, and H. L. Cronquist, agricultural agent of the Georgia and Florida railway, is expected to attend.

Several thousand dollars worth of hogs were sold from this community in co-operative sales of neighboring towns last year, and to be able to put on an independent sale at this time indicates a profit in hog raising for the farmers of this section.

The farmers of the Vidette section have learned that there is money in crops other than cotton—their dependence until three years ago. One buyer at Vidette, T. R. Rowland, bought during the past season more than 200 tons of velvet beans. Mr. Rowland has had these beans thrashed and released and is shipping them to all parts of the southeastern states for planting and has recently shipped several small orders to Arkansas.

Commissioner of Agriculture J. J. Brown, on a recent visit to Vidette, said that Mr. Rowland's stock was the largest he had ever seen in one lot, and bought a supply for his own planting.

S. A. Thompson, a prominent and progressive farmer at this community, has paid the farmers cash for several tons of peanuts. These peanuts were grown in an experimental way, but has brought a new sum of money to the community.

Mr. Thompson has already sold his entire holdings at a good price and is unable to fill several orders at $150 per ton. One good lot of this product was shipped to South Dakota.

Vidette has shipped several cars of the finest peavine hay grown in Georgia. The progressive merchants of the town are encouraging the production of chickens and eggs—shipments of which go out every week.

The lumber industry is bringing hundreds of dollars of money into this community and is furnishing employment to all their surplus labor.

In spite of the fact that their cotton crop last year was the smallest in history and less than 10 per cent of their 1919 crop, their local bank's deposits has more than doubled in the past two years, and the farmers and merchants are looking forward with confidence to a prosperous 1923.

"ATLANTA SPIRIT" SIMS' SAVANNAH ADDRESS SUBJECT

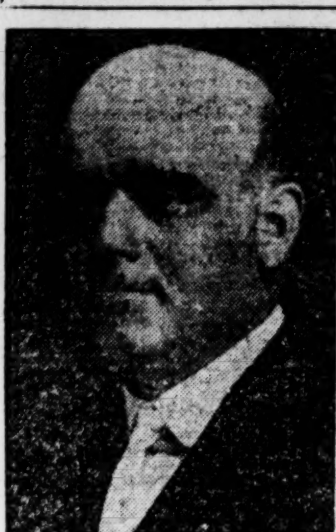

"The Real Spirit of Georgia's Capital City" will be the subject of Mayor Walter A. Sims before the membership of the Georgia Municipal league in Savannah next Thursday night, it was announced Monday by the mayor in a writing the invitation to deliver the principal address at the session.

The mayor will leave for Savannah Wednesday night and expects to return Friday morning. Representatives from virtually all cities and towns in the state will be present at the meeting, according to Frank M. Olive, chairman of the entertainment committee.

ALLEGED TIRE THIEF BOUND OVER TO STATE

Dave Burton, 17, of 40 Arden avenue, Monday morning was bound over to the state courts by Recorder George E. FRANK P. ALLEN,
SPANISH WAR VET,
LIES IN DAWSON

Dawson, Ga., March 26.—(Special.) Frank P. Allen, aged 64, well-known and highly esteemed Dawsonian, died at his home here early this morning following an illness of a few days.

Mr. Allen was taken ill at his home late Thursday afternoon and has been in an unconscious state until death this morning, having grown weaker gradually as the days passed.

He is survived by his widow, one son, F. P. Allen, Jr., of this city; three sisters, Misses Kitty, Daisy and Lillie Allen, all of this city; and two brothers, Charles Allen, of San Francisco, Cal., and John Allen, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mr. Allen was a veteran of the Spanish-American war. He was born in Terrell county, but in later life moved with his wife to Philadelphia, having returned to Dawson in 1918 where he has since lived. Mr. Allen was a jeweler.

The funeral will be held Tuesday morning about 10:30 o'clock and interment will take place in Cedar Hill cemetery. Several of the members of the local post American Legion will act as pallbearers.

W. J. Harris Addresses Voters in Daugherty On His "Stewardship"

Albany, Ga., March 26.—Senator William J. Harris addressed the voters of Daugherty and surrounding counties this morning at the Daugherty county court house. Judge George P. Munro, presiding, declared a recess of court to permit Senator Harris to make his address, which was an accounting of his stewardship as a member of the U. S. senate from Georgia. He laid especial emphasis on the farm credits bills and other legislation in behalf of the agricultural interests.

MORE INDUSTRIES MEETING TODAY

tions of Georgia have written and telegraphed to Hal M. Stanley, Georgia commissioner of commerce and labor, and chairman of the temporary committee, that the support of all Georgia would be lined up behind the movement.

Each municipality in Georgia will have one member on the temporary advisory board of the organization and many towns and cities have already designated their members through action of chamber of commerce, Lions, Civitans, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, according to announcement by Commissioner Stanley Monday.

The members of the temporary executive committee, which meets today, represent all sections of Georgia and most of them have long been identified with public affairs in the state.

They are Hal M. Stanley, chairman; Governor-elect Clifford M. Walker, of Monroe; Dr. M. L. Brittain, president of Georgia Tech and former state superintendent of schools; William J.

Vereen, of Moultrie, former chairman of the state democratic executive committee; U. B. Lewis, president of the Macon Chamber of Commerce; W. T. Anderson, editor of The Macon Daily Telegraph; C. J. McKinnery, editor of The Macon News; Clark Howell, editor of The Atlanta Constitution; Major John S. Cohen, editor of The Atlanta Journal, and W. M. Baskerville, managing editor of The Atlanta Georgian.

Meet Active Response.

"On the eve of the first official meeting of the committee indications are that whatever action it takes will find an actively sympathetic response throughout Georgia," Chairman Stanley stated Monday night. "Assurances of co-operation and financial assistance have reached my office from widely separated sections of Georgia and all who have been interviewed in connection with it, whatever their previous alliances may have been, have expressed a unanimity of accord in this subject."

"The opinion seems to be general that Georgia's untapped advantages for industrial development should be advertised in a way to insure their being capitalized to the state's advantage and that the state is sorely in need of more industrial wealth."

tion which will be carried into the pre-convention fight and upset the plans to renominate Harding. But the danger is this great Harding will try to prevent a break by dropping his scheme, despite his recent declaration that it is inconceivable to him that the American people would not be strongly in favor of it.

"President Harding's proposal for American representation in the international court of justice has furnished the makings of a terrible row in his own party and given the irreconcilables and other republicans who don't want him re-nominated a fine cause for repudiating and attacking him," the democratic national committee asserted in a formal statement.

Lodge Will Oppose.

"It is already predicted—and with a good deal of basis—that Senator Lodge will be among those who will ultimately vote to reject Mr. Harding's proposition for American participation in the stabilization of Europe."

"The republican senate entertainers and has manifested but little respect for President Harding. Those republicans who served with him when he was a senator have never expressed admiration for his profundity or diligence in the matter of this country's foreign relations. Many of them, including Lodge, Moses and Brandegee, have no very flattering opinion of Mr. Harding's intellectual gifts. They have never ceased to be restive under the leadership of a former associate whom they ranked and treated as one of the senate's mediocrities."

SHIPPING BOARD URGED TO RETIRE

the following procedure as fundamental:

"1. The shipping board and emergency fleet corporation should retire from the business of operating ships and place the operations in the hands of private owners."

"2. The shipping board should immediately scrap such vessels as are inferior in design, equipment or condition."

"3. The shipping board should offer its remaining vessels for sale to American citizens without any restriction, and without any discrimination between buyers."

"4. After the lapse of a reasonable time all of the vessels not sold under the foregoing plan and having no immediately prospective sale value should be scrapped."

Regarded as Essential.

"5. There are a few freight and passenger and mail services maintained by shipping board vessels, the continuance of which may be regarded as essential to national interests. If the shipping board is unable to find buyers for the vessels in such services they should be placed in the hands of private owners under an operating arrangement until buyers can be found, or developed, or the impossibility of profitable operation be definitely established."

"The association regards as demonstrated by experience that an American merchant marine in foreign trade can not be built up through government operation. Without national aid or a radical revision of existing laws, a privately-owned merchant marine can not be maintained, let alone created or developed. Competition, or the menace of competition, by government owned ships makes success the more certainly impossible."

"In any plan that the shipping board may develop for the disposition of its tonnage, due regard should be given to existing privately invested capital, otherwise it will spell disaster to the entire American shipping business."

The committee which presented the letter was headed by Mr. Smith, who is president of the New York and Cuba Mail Steamship company, and included R. H. M. Robinson, president of the United American Lines; Gale H. Carter, president of the Pacific Mail; E. J. McCormack, of Moore & McCormack; C. N. Kellogg, of the Munson Line, and Wintthrop L. Marvin, vice president of the association.

END TO DIVORCE URGED BY JUDGE

fore there are, unfortunately, so many middle aged and elderly men—and some young ones—who for one reason or another want new wives.

"But one great practical step which should be taken immediately is the passage of legislation making decrees obtained in Paris or elsewhere in Europe invalid. It is all wrong to let rich men or women run off to Paris to get divorces. We should not allow a condition to exist which permits wealthy Americans to escape from the operation of American laws."

Justice Morsehauser would have difficult cases tried in the open because he believes publicity has a wholesome effect. He would permit separation and annulments.

mand of civilization itself is that nations shall set themselves, with all the resources of their intelligence and skill, to the elimination of sources of controversy and shall earnestly and diligently seek for their manifold ills the cures which can only be found in friendship and good faith.

"In this conference of American republics, it is sought not only to buttress the foundations of amity, but to take full advantage of its opportunities. Our intimate economic relations require many advantageous adjustments which our fortunate relations make possible. The conviction which has led to these gatherings is that of a distinct community of interest among the republics of this hemisphere. It is no prejudice to other interests wisely to conserve our own. These republics, each approximately safeguarding its sovereignty and independence voice the sentiment which is the essence of pan-Americanism—the sentiment of mutually beneficial co-operation."

Processes of Reason.

"There are happily no controversies among us that can not be settled by the processes of reason. No interest is cherished which could prompt aggression. There is no ambition which runs counter to the aspirations of our free peoples."

"We rejoice in an expanding life; we are proud of our traditions and achievements; we all desire the development of resources, increased facilities of education and the improvement of a fine common lot of humanity."

"This conference means the practical direction of our material and spiritual forces to gain for all the American republics the enhanced prosperity which waits on the friendly collaboration of states secure in their recognized equality, in their mutual respect and in the supremacy of the common sentiment of justice. I trust that your labors may have the happiest results."

DESCRIBES FEELINGS DURING OPERATION

complained of severe headaches and sometimes was seized with epileptic fits. Then his memory failed him and he fell into a semi-stupor.

Finally he was taken to Beth Israel hospital for an operation. Because of his weakened condition, it was decided that he could not stand a general anesthetic.

During a period of lucidity, Brown agreed to submit, under local anesthesia, to a two-hour operation. He was told to tell the surgeons whether he felt the anesthesia wearing off and was warned that an unconscious movement on his part would mean his end.

Dr. K. Winfield May performed the operation, peering only when the patient asked for more anesthetic. The skull was trepanned, the brain covering removed and a tumor two by four inches and three-quarters of an inch thick was revealed.

Brown said the first result he noticed after the removal of the tumor was cessation of the headaches. Then he regained his memory gradually. Finally his paralysis disappeared and now he can move about freely.

ADDITIONAL VENIRE FOR INNES TRIAL

was able to make the trip from Portland, Ore., to Atlanta for trial.

Innes was charged with the murder of Mrs. Eloise Nelms Dennis and Miss Beatrice Nelms, sisters, who disappeared in Texas in 1914. He was acquitted in Texas, brought back to Georgia, tried and convicted on a charge of larceny after trust, and served several years' sentence.

Mrs. Innes was also convicted in Georgia and served a term at the state farm in Milledgeville.

The case was called for trial at 10 o'clock Monday morning. At this time R. E. Couch and Louis H. Foster, attorneys for Innes, moved to continue the trial until Tuesday, on the grounds that they had not been in possession of the bill of particulars ordered by Judge Sibley long enough to study them. Judge Sibley ruled that a few hours would be sufficient, and continued the case until Monday afternoon.

Object to Dorsey.

Attorneys for Innes also objected to ex-Governor Hugh M. Dorsey and Major Joel B. Mallet taking part in the prosecution, until it was established that they had been legally designated by the attorney general.

Motion of attorneys for defense to quash the indictment, alleging that the letters in question were mailed in Nevada, and that the case was therefore in the jurisdiction of the federal court of that state, was overruled by Judge Sibley.

Tillou Von Nunez, attorney for Mrs. Innes, presented affidavits from physicians in Portland to the effect that Mrs. Innes was physically unable to be brought to Atlanta for trial. District Attorney Hager moved to continue her trial until such time as she could receive reports from physicians who were to make examination of Mrs. Innes for the government, and the motion was sustained.

Eleven Jurors Picked.

Over an hour was consumed in selecting the eleven jurors. Charles L. Weeks, Thomas C. Fincher, Thomas H. Bright, Joseph Mann, John B. Jackson, Alfred C. Blacklock, Arthur H. Duggan, Joseph Q. Burton, Paul L. Fleming, Homer Ashley and Julius A.

Carroll were the ones impaneled. A number of out of town witnesses were present for the trial. Thomas B. Lewis, an attorney of Houston, Texas, and Frank B. Dwyer, of San Antonio, Texas, were present. A. J. Campbell, assistant cashier of the Heliman Bank & Trust company, of Los Angeles, Calif., was among other witnesses on hand.

Shearers Beaten at Own Game;
Wall Street Is Taught Lesson

BY CENTRAL PRESS.

New York, March 26.—Wall street took a lesson in high finance the other day from a grocery clerk out in Tennessee and as a result has been forced to settle at his own price. However, one of them have vigorously objected and suits in court are threatened to force them to settle according to stock exchange rules, which Saunders says have been violated.

It wasn't exactly a lesson. Rather it was a full and complete course in "trimming" which Wall street itself might be proud of.

Down "in the street," as the professionals term the New York stock market, "shearing the lambs" long has been the pleasant and profitable pastime of the professional wizards of finance.

Halls From Memphis. Clarence Saunders is his name. He hails from down Memphis way, where cotton picking is supposed to be all the boys ever learn.

Saunders used to dispense groceries at a village store for the meager sum of four dollars per week—when business was good.

Then Clarence hotted an idea—the serve-it grocery. He called it Piggly-Wiggly. He incorporated the idea to the tune of 200,000 shares of stock at $28 per share and started a chain of stores.

The stock was listed on the New York exchange for trading. The price rose to 50. Then the professionals started in their deadly work.

Bear traders, selling short, sold the stock down to $40. Clarence's where Clarence decided to take a hand.

Clarence started buying the stock. The short sellers continued selling and Saunders continued buying. The stock rose to $70 as a result of Saunders' action.

Then he announced that he'd sold the stock he had purchased at $55 a share. Individual subscribers on a partial payment system, but control of the stock was to be retained by himself until December.

Short Sellers Busy. Once more the short sellers decided to run the stock down. They did.

Two points. But they didn't know that the 200,000 shares outstanding Saunders already had 198,000 under his control.

They continued to sell. Saunders bought. Suddenly Saunders, with 198,000 shares safely tucked in the Piggly-Wiggly safe, demanded delivery on 10,000 shares which the bears had "sold short."

As the "shorts" attempted to buy the stock for delivery they found there was none to be had. The price sky-rocketed to $124 a share, a jump of $62. Still no stock was forthcoming.

Then Saunders announced that he would sell the stock he had purchased at $55 a share and raise the ante for each day the shorts delayed settlement.

body doubts that he is a wizard in finance and business and that he has done more to solve the foot-clash between capital and labor than any other outstanding person in America. Ford could eliminate more waste in governmental administration and save Mr. Mellon's present financial difficulties better than any other American citizen who has a chance to be nominated.

"Any man should count it an honor to flatter with Henry Ford into the swing portals of the white house," he concluded.

Speaking in all good humor, but from the democratic standpoint, Congressman Upshaw dared the republicans to nominate President Harding for a second term and dared them also not to nominate him.

St. Louis, Mo., March 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—A courier armed with a temporary federal court order restraining the government's seizure of the river fleet, taken from Edward F. Goltra, lessee by Colonel T. O. Ashburn, of the war department to which was assigned by automobile to Cape Girardeau, Mo., 131 miles south to intercept Colonel Ashburn, who is sailing down the Mississippi river with the barges.

Attorneys of federal court say it was a matter of speculation whether Colonel Ashburn would yield to the order if served with it as planned to Cape Girardeau as the war department official was on the federal towboat Vicksburg, en route to Fayetteville, Ill., and Caseyville, Ky., to complete seizure of the fleet.

James E. Carroll, district attorney, said the action of the war department in seizing the boats came as a surprise to him and served with a copy of restraining order as hearing on which is scheduled to be held tomorrow. He asserted he was without instructions from Washington as to his course at the hearing.

"The war department seized the barges on its own average," he declared. "I was not a party to it in any way."

The order was issued today after seizure of part of the fleet Sunday, after Goltra had refused to surrender the boats on demand of Secretary of War Weeks who avowed Goltra's contract to operate the fleets on grounds of alleged failure to maintain the fleet as a common carrier.

UPSHAW PREDICTS
HARDING DEFEAT

ered before his colossal genius," Mr. Upshaw continued. "He is a demagogue of the democrats—a man of powerful brain and marvellous executive ability. He would win grandly if nominated and I count his chances good."

John W. Davis, former ambassador to Great Britain, has not been outspoken enough in favor of the eighteenth amendment to win the election," Mr. Upshaw declared. But if he will plant both feet squarely on that incontestable document, he will greatly enhance his chances for the nomination.

Senator Upshaw declared that it is a hard problem to say just who will be nominated.

"I can come nearer telling you who the democratic nominee will not be than I can tell you who he will be," he explained. "The nominee will not be a reactionary, either economic or constitutional."

"No man who is modifying our national prohibition law will have a ghost of a chance," thundered the Georgia cyclone, and jumped up from the chair on which he was sitting while delivering his address.

"However delightful Governor Al Smith of New York may be as a personality or however efficient as an executive, his declaration in favor of the old regime that enables men to put their feet on the brass rail and blow off the foam shifts the door of the white house forever against him, for I believe now more strongly than when I declared it in congress on the ninth of January, that no man can roll into the white house on a deer key or a wine barrel."

"Senator Oscar W. Underwood's lukewarm attitude toward the prohibition question places the ban on him also," Mr. Upshaw said. He declared that he admires the Alabama senator very much personally and would love to see him repeat before it is too late.

Congressman William Ayres, of Kansas, who has received the o. k. of Mr. Bryan, is a very improbable dark horse, Mr. Upshaw figures.

"Senator Ralston, of Indiana, frequently mentioned as a likely presidential nominee, is very strong in his own states, and should Indiana decide to push him, would make a strong race for the nomination," Senator Ferris, the educator, who was elected governor of the republican state of Michigan and is the first democrat to be elected to the senate from that state in the past 100 years, might be a fine man with which to break a deadlock," the Georgian argued.

Jests About Ford. The last man considered was Henry Ford. "And what about Uncle Henry Ford?" he asked laughingly. "Nobody doubts that he is a wizard in finance and business and that he has done more to solve the foot-clash between capital and labor than any other outstanding person in America. Ford could eliminate more waste in governmental administration and save Mr. Mellon's present financial difficulties better than any other American citizen who has a chance to be nominated."

Clarence Saunders.

Two points. But they didn't know that the 200,000 shares outstanding Saunders already had 198,000 under his control.

They continued to sell. Saunders bought. Suddenly Saunders, with 198,000 shares safely tucked in the Piggly-Wiggly safe, demanded delivery on 10,000 shares which the bears had "sold short."

As the "shorts" attempted to buy the stock for delivery they found there was none to be had. The price sky-rocketed to $124 a share, a jump of $62. Still no stock was forthcoming.

Then Saunders announced that he would sell the stock he had purchased at $55 a share and raise the ante for each day the shorts delayed settlement.

Speaking in all good humor, but from the democratic standpoint, Congressman Upshaw dared the republicans to nominate President Harding for a second term and dared them also not to nominate him.

LEADERS OPPOSE
PRIMARY IN JUNE

Candidates Appear as Early Date Is Broached—Woodall and Hubert Lee to Run.

Strong opposition on the part of political leaders to the movement inaugurated last week to hold the city primary, at which three aldermen, 12 councilmen and a superintendent of waterworks are to be nominated, in June instead of September, as has been the past custom, was beginning to spread around the city hall Monday.

Alderman W. M. Hartsfield, Councilman Harry York and others expressed the opinion that the plan would prove unsatisfactory in many ways. So far as holding the primary in June saving city money, they maintained, it would not affect the city's exchequer in the least, as the candidates themselves defray all expenses in primaries, they stated.

In the meantime those favoring the early primary plan were bestirring Monday in their efforts to have the date fixed for June. Announcement of this plan Sunday caused a number of prospective candidates for the various municipal offices to get busy and there was a buzz of political activity among them.

Woodall and Lee Enter. Definite announcement from two candidates, one already a representative in council, was made during the day. Councilman Fred C. Woodall, of the third ward, who is serving on several important councilman committees, among them the police, purchasing and ordinance, stated that he would offer for re-election. He is now serving his third term in council.

The other candidate, Mayor Hubert F. Lee, well-known young Atlanta, who has been unusually active in chamber of commerce and other civic affairs, also announced his intention to run for the eleventh ward for the place now occupied by Councilman J. H. Olson, who will probably be in the race to succeed himself.

J. A. White, widely known in real estate circles, member of the city planning commission, and president of the city council, also announced that he was considering the request of friends to enter the race for councilman from the fourth ward. A committee called upon Mr. White Monday and urged him to offer for election to the place now held by Councilman Claude Ashley. The latter is said to have announced that he would not be a candidate to succeed himself.

"I told the committee which requested me to enter the race," said Mr. White, "that I could run, provided Councilman Ashley declined. He is one of my best friends and I would not for a moment consider running against him."

There is no disease more offensive or disagreeable, or no disease that will lead to as much serious trouble as catarrh. You can now get rid of it by a simple, safe, and inexpensive remedy discovered by Dr. Blosser, a catarrh specialist.

Dr. Blosser's Remedy is composed of the finest medical and berries, which you smoke in a dainty pipe or cigarette. The smoke-vapor is inhaled into all the air passages of the head, nose, throat and lungs and carries medicine where sprays, douches and rinses cannot possibly reach. Its effect is soothing and healing and is entirely harmless. It contains no cubes or tobacco, and may be used by women and children as well as men.

If you suffer from catarrh, asthma, catarrhal deafness, or if subject to frequent colds, you should try Dr. Blosser's Remedy which may be had at any drug store; or if you desire proof of its beneficial and pleasant effect, send ten cents (coin or stamps) to The Blosser Co., 27 E. Among Those Owning

A COMPANY is known by the stockholders it keeps.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company, which derives most of its revenues from its investments in the Associated Companies of the Bell System, includes among its stockholders many of the big and conservative investors of the Nation, but it has also an army of small investors. It has more than 250,000 stockholders with an average holding of only about 28 shares.

A lineman in Seattle; an operator in New Orleans; an installer in Boston; a clerk in Philadelphia—thousands of these telephone workers own stock in the System which they serve.

This is a surety against inefficiency and waste. It is a pledge of safety.

A. T. & T. pays 9% dividends on over $700,000,000 of stock outstanding. Today the stock can be bought in the open market to yield approximately 7%.

M'DOUGALD GETS PAVING CONTRACT

Roosevelt Boulevard Will be Paved With Concrete. Contract Awarded Monday Worth $106,000.

Contract for two and one-half miles of concrete paving for Roosevelt boulevard, formerly Roswell road, was awarded Monday afternoon to the MacDougald Construction company. The paving will cost approximately $106,000.

The stretch involved in the contract was covered by the asphalt contract formerly held with the county by the MacDougald company for nearly twelve miles of asphalt roadway. Upon decision by the board of county commissioners that asphalt pavement is not adequate for the volume of traffic on the road, cancellation of the asphalt contract was agreed to by Alex MacDougald, president of the company, on condition that a portion of the concrete pavement. Under the asphalt contract approximately three and one-half miles had already been laid when the commission changed its plans. The two and one-half mile strip of concrete will be begun where the old Roswell road and the present road intersect, or nearly five miles north of Burkhead.

TAYLOR TO FIGHT CLEMENCY APPEAL FOR BAKER BOYS

Solicitor General, Eugene S. Taylor, of the Mountain circuit, of Summerville, will appear at the April 9 hearing before Governor Hardwick to oppose clemency for George and Ralph Baker. Walker county brothers sentenced to hang for the killing of Deputy Sheriff J. W. Morton.

The governor has set April 9 for a public hearing, to be held in the house of representatives chamber, on account of the large crowd which is anticipated after the wide interest which has been aroused in this case.

The prison commission, after extensive hearings of these cases, recently recommended that the sentence of Ralph, the younger of the two boys, be commuted to life imprisonment on account of his youth, his age apparently being about seventeen. They refused to recommend clemency for George, the older brother.

INSTALL DE MOLAY OFFICERS TONIGHT AT OPEN MEETING

Officers for the Atlanta chapter, Order of De Molay, for the ensuing quarter will be installed at a public meeting at 8 o'clock tonight, Miss Katherine Johnson and Miss Mary Morris, who were recently elected sponsors of the order, will be present.

The officers are Madison Massey, master counselor; Frank Lichtenwalter, senior counselor; Francis Newman, junior counselor; Harley Branch, Jr., scribe; Raymond Reed, treasurer; J. D. Martin, senior deacon; Carl Mills, junior deacon; James LeMay, marshal; Francis Plumb, senior steward; Julian Carmichael, junior steward; Barton Ford, chaplain; Alvin Moore, secretary; D. A. D. L. THOMAS, 79, IS STRICKEN DEAD BY HEART ATTACK

D. L. Thomas, 79, veteran of the war between the states, and well known Atlanta business man, died in his market at 10 South Pryor street, Monday morning, while engaged in a conversation with Lloyd Garmon, of 10 Fowler street. Mr. Garmon stated that Mr. Thomas broke off talking suddenly and dropped to the floor.

The death is believed to have been from a heart attack. According to members of the family, he was apparently in good health when he left home Monday morning.

Mr. Thomas was a member of Camp Walker, United Confederate Veterans, and of Piedmont council No. 283, National union.

He is survived by his wife, and four daughters, Mrs. W. E. Chambers, and Misses Nina, Marie and Helen Thomas. Three grandchildren also survive. They are Robert, Helen, Dorothy and Marguerite Chambers.

JACKSON COUPLE PLACED IN JAIL ON U. S. CHARGES

Bert Jackson and Evelyn Jackson, his wife, were committed to jail Monday in default of bonds of $1,000 and $300, respectively, following preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner W. C. Carter on charges of violating the narcotic law and sending obscene matter through the mails.

According to narcotic agents, a large quantity of drugs stolen recently from the McRoberts Drug company were found in possession of Bert Jackson, in a hotel at Savannah.

Miss Jackson was not charged with any violation of the narcotic law, but was wanted in Atlanta by postal authorities who charge a violation of postal laws, specific instance being the sending of obscene photographs through the mails.

T. E. Middlebrook, narcotic chief, states that he believes Bert Jackson had nothing to do with the "dope" robbery, but that he was in possession of the drug intended to retail it.

Striker Acquitted In Federal Court On Assault Charge

W. B. Osler, charged with violating federal strike injunction, was acquitted by Judge Sibley, was acquitted in United States district court Monday.

Osler was charged with assaulting F. L. Schell, an employee of the railroad company, on the night of September 25. Schell identified him, but stated that the man who assaulted him wore a moustache.

Osler introduced testimony that he had his moustache cut off on the night of September 2. Testimony for the government was that Osler was wearing a moustache even as late as September 20, but a verdict for the defendant was returned.

Captain Yancey Back.

After a serious illness, which has kept him away from his office for over a month, Captain G. H. Yancey, secretary to the Georgia prison commission, on Monday returned to his desk. Captain Yancey is one of the best-known figures around the capital, having held his present post for over a quarter of a century.

New Punishments Draw Objections From Hardwick

Governor Plans to Take Up Convict Question With Commission.

During his brief stay in the city while stopping over on his way from Florida to Washington, Governor Hardwick expressed his dissatisfaction with the new rule for punishing inmate inmates of Georgia prison camps, recently drawn up by the county warden at a meeting held in Atlanta last Wednesday.

The governor has been taking a brief vacation in Florida and is now on his way for a visit to Washington and New York, expecting to return to his office in the capital on Monday, next.

After reading the new ruling on Saturday night, the governor expressed his disapproval and said he would take the matter up with the prison commission on his return.

The law respecting punishment of convicts requires that all rules and regulations shall be prescribed by the commission and approved by the governor. Some weeks ago Governor Hardwick banned the whipping of convicts and the rule to which he now objects was drawn up by the warden to provide substitute punishment for the lash. It was adopted after a storm meeting, at which many of the warden's wishes to disregard the governor's orders and continue flogging as a punishment in recalcitrant cases.

The new rule, to which the governor takes exception, provides as follows: "Solitary confinement, restriction of diet, restriction of privilege of receiving visitors, use of shackles and chains and handcuffs, handcuffing the hands above the head in an elevated position while the convict stands in an upright position, and such other modes of punishment as will suggest itself to the warden in charge."

RETAILERS TO DISCUSS ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN

Alfred C. Newell to Address Retail Merchants on Thursday Night.

Plans for a co-operative advertising campaign to proclaim Atlanta's possibilities to the world, formulated at a recent meeting of the board of directors of the Atlanta Retail Merchants' association, will be discussed at the regular monthly membership meeting of the association Thursday at 8:30 o'clock in the chamber of commerce assembly hall.

Alfred C. Newell, president of the chamber of commerce, will address the retail merchants on "Chamber of Commerce Activities Affecting the Welfare of Atlanta Retail Merchants." W. W. Orr, president of the Georgia Museum of Science, will also speak. Mr. Orr's topic will be "The Acid Test for Successful Retail Merchandising." A musical feature will be presented by Mrs. Ohn M. Cooper.

Recent traffic ordinance changes will be reported by the traffic regulations committee of the association. Parking privileges for a half-hour between the hours of 9 o'clock in the morning and 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon, for which the committee has been working some time, have been secured, and is expected to meet the approval of the membership. According to a statement made Monday by officers of the association, executives, department heads and employees, especially of the sales and service departments of Atlanta retail stores are invited to attend the meeting Thursday.

"BARBARA" PRESENTED BY THEATER GUILD

The Little Theater Guild presented "Barbara," a satire, Monday evening at Cable hall. Miss Lila Wash, Walter Marvin and Joseph Boyd comprised the cast. In addition to the play, Tech High orchestra rendered a few selections, and Mr. Marvin gave a reading.

Are You Sure You Know what Linoleum is?

YOU walk on linoleum in offices and homes. You see it in stores; you read about it as you are reading now—but do you know what it is?

Linoleum is a combination of cork, oil, and burlap. These substances blend together naturally into a material that makes a floor superior to any kind of floor that man has devised. Every one of these natural products—cork, linseed oil, and burlap—contributes qualities to linoleum that are desirable in a floor.

What the cork gives

You have probably handled hundreds of ordinary cork stoppers, but have you ever really examined a piece of cork to study wherein cork is different from wood, or stone, or metal?

A cork used in an ink bottle will blacken, but cut in and you will find the stain has not penetrated. Cork is nonabsorbent and moisture-proof. Cork is light. It will float in water. Cork is elastic. You can compress it and when released it will spring back to its original shape. Throw it on the floor and it will rebound. Cork resists decay. It is a good heat-insulator, which makes it warm to the touch, summer or winter. Cork is tough. It does not scratch or abrade easily, nor will it scratch or mar other surfaces. These are the qualities that cork gives to linoleum.

What the linseed oil gives

Linoleum gets its name from linseed oil, which is pressed from flaxseed. Linseed oil is used in paint, which,

In 1863 Frederick Walton noted the film of oxidized linseed oil that forms on the top of an open can of paint. He mixed this solidifying oil with powdered cork, pressed it on burlap—and linoleum was invented.

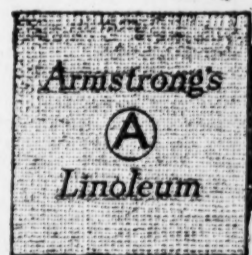

when exposed to air, turns to a tough, solid film of skin. This film is smooth and rubbery and practically waterproof. When mixed with powdered cork these two substances unite perfectly. The tough oil skin, combined with the cork, becomes remarkably durable. The daily tread of thousands of feet makes little impression upon it. Also, it can be printed with patterns or designs that do not fade; or it can be colored throughout its entire thickness with colors that are as permanent as the linoleum itself. This is what is known as inlaid linoleum. These are the qualities that linseed oil gives to linoleum.

What the burlap gives

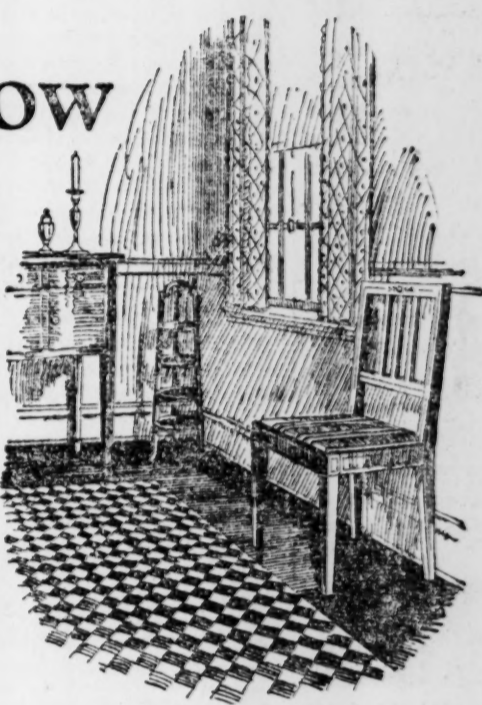

This mixture of cork and oxidized linseed oil is not truly linoleum until it has been pressed or "keyed" into a fabric of tough, strong burlap. This burlap back provides a solid foundation and prevents tearing. The Armstrong trademark, a Circle "A," appears clearly on the back of all Armstrong's Linoleum. It is this sturdy, flexible, non-tearing quality that burlap gives to linoleum.

Because of its tensile strength, jute from India is widely used in the manufacture of various kinds of rope. For the same reason, jute yarn is woven into the strong linoleum burlap. You can identify all genuine linoleum by the burlap back.

Linoleum has every quality that a modern floor should have. The linoleum floor is smooth, resilient, and comfortable. It is waterproof and the easiest of all floors to clean and keep clean. It can be kept looking new year after year by an occasional waxing and polishing. It is extremely quiet and, because cork is a non-conductor of heat, is not cold to the touch. Good linoleum wears for many years.

A dining-room floor of Armstrong's Black and Gray Straight Line Inlaid Linoleum with a border of Black Linoleum

Many colors and patterns

Architects and interior decorators have been quick to seize the opportunity to suggest in the permanent linoleum floor a color value that is artistically a part of the room itself. Well-chosen floors of linoleum blend with the color schemes of walls, furniture, and draperies. Rugs are placed on these floors as on any permanent floor.

Armstrong's Linoleum is sold in good furniture and department stores in rich plain colors, beautiful two-tone Jaspé effects, parquetry inlaid, tile inlaid, carpet inlaid, and pleasing printed designs. Estimates furnished by linoleum contractors or house furnishers will surprise you at the low cost of replacing worn wooden floors or installing Armstrong's Linoleum floors in a new home. The Armstrong Cork Company maintains a Bureau of Interior Decoration for the purpose of giving advice on this subject, without charge.

Laying linoleum for permanency

In summer wood floors expand. In winter they dry out and contract, with a tendency to open up the cracks between the boards. Your linoleum floor, therefore, should be cemented (not tacked) over a lining of builder's deadening felt. The added service and wear this method gives are well worth the extra cost.

Write for free sample and booklet

Let us send you a sample of Armstrong's Linoleum and our 24-page booklet, "New Floors for Old." The booklet contains a score of colorplates of distinctive designs in Armstrong's Linoleum that you can see at good stores; also, information on laying linoleum over wood or concrete, and how to take care of your linoleum floors.

Take the sample in your hands. Note how the cork mix is keyed to the burlap back. Feel how warm, resilient, yet tough and durable good linoleum is.

CHICAGO MAN GIVEN
ITALIAN DECORATION

Chicago, March 26.—The Italian consulate general announced yesterday the conferring by the Italian government of the order of the crown with knighthood on John Gleason O'Brien, of Chicago. The award is made for distinguished service to Italy by Mr. O'Brien as vice consul of the United States to Rome following his discharge from the army in 1919. O'Brien, formerly a correspondent of The New York Tribune, during the conference on armaments at Washington, served as liaison officer between the correspondents and the Italian delegates. He quit journalism to be associated with General Charles C. Dawes, former director of the federal budget. He is a native of Massachusetts.

Skin Ablaze
with Eczema

Constant Itching Almost Unbearable!

We know there is one thing that stops eczema, and that is more red-blooded cells. S. S. S. builds them for you. You can increase your red-blooded cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist.

exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, all impurities vanish. We also know that night follows day. Both are facts. But have you eczema, or any other skin eruption, or any other skin trouble? Thousands just like you have never thought about it. Skin eruptions, eczema with all its fiery, skin-tinging, itching, burning, stinging, and unbearable itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting giants of nature! S. S. S. builds them for you. It has been doing it since 1892! S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders known to us mortals! When you put these facts together, then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. Mrs. Arthur N. Smith, Pearl St., Newark, Ohio, writes: "My little girl had a very bad case of eczema. She began taking S. S. S. and it went away. I thank you very much. I tell my friends what a good medicine it is. I cannot talk too much about it, for I know it is O. K."

Here is your opportunity. S. S. S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S. S. S. does build red-blooded cells, it builds rheumatism, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, beautifies the complexion, builds you up when you are run-down. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

Hughes Answers
Second Proposal
Army's Payment

Reply of America Will be Delivered to the Allies
Today.

Washington, March 26.—Secretary Hughes has answered the second proposal of allied representatives in Paris negotiating for the settlement of American claims for repayment of the costs of maintaining the American army of occupation in Germany. The reply was cabled to Elliot Washburn, the American representative in Paris and will be delivered by him at tomorrow's meeting of the allied representatives.

The impression was given in official quarters that the reply indicated a willingness on the part of the Washington government to deduct from the total amount of its claims the value of German property which came into possession of the American army as a result of the armistice.

Unofficial reports from Paris fix this amount at about 53,000,000 gold marks. While state department spokesmen decline to comment on the contents of Secretary Hughes' answer, it was said today there was every reason to believe the negotiations would work out satisfactorily.

Communist Party
Met on March 18,
Says Prosecutor

Ruthenberg Attended Gathering in New York, Asserts Charles Gore.

St. Joseph, Mich., March 26.—(By The Associated Press.)—The communist party of America was meeting and functioning as a party organization and discussing illegal activities as late as a week ago yesterday, according to evidence produced by the state today in the trial of William Z. Foster, charged with violating the criminal syndicalism law of Michigan.

Attacking the claim of Charles E. Ruthenberg, a defense witness and co-defendant with Foster, that the communist party had passed out of existence last January, meeting with the legal workers' party, the prosecution, on cross-examination, won an admission that Mr. Ruthenberg had attended a communist gathering in New York March 18.

Reading from the report of a government agent who also was at the meeting, Charles Gore, prosecutor of Berrien county, recited the alleged events at the New York meeting, and in most of the essential details the witness agreed the account was correct.

Speech in German.

Ruthenberg admitted that he and another member of the central executive committee of the workers' party, who used the alias of Pepper, were present, and that Pepper delivered a long speech in German, which Ruthenberg translated. He admitted that Pepper stated the reason why the communist international of Moscow had ordered the communists in this country to come out in the open, and that one reason advanced was because the political situation had changed since the election of men classed as liberals to important offices, including congress.

The report of the unnamed government agent who attended the meeting said that the speech was followed by a general discussion in which Ruthenberg answered questions. "He stated as follows," the justice department's agent's report continued. "The apparatus of the communist party of America will consist of a very confidential committee which will direct illegal work, such as sending men into the American Legion, the Ku Klux Klan, the army and navy and in case of an uprising this committee will take care of getting arms and distributing them, also to get people to distribute illegal literature and do the general work of the party."

Ruthenberg declared that the statement represented what he had actually said.

AT RESIDENCE HERE

Sudden Paralytic Stroke Kills
Veteran Keely Silk Department Executive.

C. F. Cantrell, 50 of Cherokee road, for the past 30 years manager of the silk department for Keely's department store, died suddenly Monday night at his home. His death resulted from a paralytic stroke, following several weeks of illness. Mr. Cantrell, however, worked up until noon Monday, even though he was advised to go to bed a week ago by his employers and doctor.

Surviving him are his widow, two daughters, Misses Jean and Ethel Cantrell, and one brother, M. P. Cantrell, all of Atlanta. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

LOAN BOARD FINISHES
CHARTERING OF BANKS

Announcement Will Soon be Made of Rate of Interest to be Charged.

Washington, March 26.—The federal farm loan board today completed the chartering of the federal land banks so they may operate under the new agricultural credits act, in connection with the intermediate credit system. With the granting of a charter to the land bank at Berkeley, Cal., the 12 land banks were made ready formally to assume the functions of the credit banks in addition to the present loaning facilities.

It is understood the farm loan board soon will announce the interest rate at which the land banks will loan to co-operative associations and other organizations and institutions authorized under the law to borrow government funds. The rate, however, probably will not be announced until the board has completed its code of technical regulations governing the loaning of funds under the new law.

GARY DEFENDANTS
ARE NOW PAINTED
AS PLOT VICTIMS

Indianapolis, March 26.—Defense attorneys in the trial of the alleged huge Gary run ring are seeking, as the sensational trial draws to a close, to prove that the many indicted officials of Gary and Lake county are the victims of an insidious plot by the federal government.

To this end they continued Monday to introduce witnesses to bolster down the testimony of witnesses for the government, who charged that the run ring, alleged to have included Mayor Russell Johnson and City Judge Dunn, of Gary, had been in the district with an iron hand, drinking and selling confiscated booze and not even stopping at murder threats when anyone dared to investigate.

The defense is centering its attack on the story of Attorney Philip Ukan, amateur prohibition law enforcer, who charged that he had been flogged by policemen in the presence of Mayor Johnson and others when he refused to sign a paper admitting to a blackmail scheme. Later, Ukan declared, he was beaten into insensibility.

Leslie Parry, a newspaperman of Hammond, Ind., went on the stand Monday to bolster up the defense contentions and tear down some of the statements of Ukan.

He declared that Ukan had been arrested on a home front charge of bribery, and that he had not been treated violently at the time. The scheme to apprehend the alleged blackmail lot, Parry said, marked money had been used which was found on Ukan's person. Torn forged federal warrants were also found in the lawyer's clothing, Parry declared.

CHICAGO DECIDES TO BAR ALL DEAD
MEN FROM POLLS

Chicago, March 26.—Dead men will be barred from the polls at the municipal elections here April 3.

County Judge Edmund E. Kerecki, in charge of the election machinery, suspects that a number of them were planning to vote.

A staff of clerks is recording the names of all voters who have passed on since they registered last October. "There will be no dead men or women voting in this election or during the balance of my term," announced Judge Kerecki. "Whoever attempts to vote under the name of a dead man or woman will be vigorously prosecuted by Attorney Francis X. Bosch, counsel for the election commission."

BOYS HOW TO KISS

New York, March 26.—Those 21 Columbia University seniors who wrote in a class questionnaire that they never had been kissed are cowards if they don't waive that distinction instantly.

Ann Pennington—of the dimpled knees—by her press agent, has offered to stand at the footlights of "Jack and Jill" and kiss 'em all, first come first served, to show them what they've been missing.

Suddenly the town has become full of Columbia university seniors who never have been kissed.

SENATE COMMITTEE ON REFORESTATION
COMPLETES WORK

New Orleans, La., March 26.—The senatorial committee, composed of Senators McNary, of Oregon; Fletcher, of Florida; Harrison, of Mississippi, and Crenshaw, of Michigan, which has been investigating reforestation conditions in several southern states, completed its hearings here today and the committee members with the exception of Senator Harrison departed tonight for Washington.

At its closing session here the committee heard representatives of the Southern Pine association and several other witnesses interested in forestry legislation.

The discovery has led to general excavations in Tunis and Algeria with the result that other ruins of the Romans have been brought to light.

"Beauty Proof" Jury Gives
Pretty Wife $5,000 Verdict

BY RODNEY F. DUTCHER,
United News Staff Correspondent.

Chicago, March 26.—Mrs. Gladys Graham Fox will concede that the "beauty proof" jury which tried her $250,000 alienation of affections suit against Albert Fuchs, her millionaire father-in-law, was "beauty proof" as advertised, but she also suspects it was dumb.

The Fox-Fuchs jury, with each member sworn in advance to wear smoked-glasses insofar as the plaintiff's appearance was concerned, found for Mrs. Fox to the extent of a paltry $5,000.

Pretty Mrs. Fox asked for $250,000 and she isn't quite certain whether the jury understood her. Of course one doesn't always get $250,000 when one asks for $250,000 in such a suit—but another jury, Mrs. Fox feels, ought at least to split the difference. She claims to have lost Carlton E. Fox, once a good husband, through the machinations of Fuchs.

So there'll be another trial of the suit.

Fuchs, the wealthy florist and realtor, is just as dissatisfied with the verdict and nowhere near so contented that the jury refused to make any concession to his daughter-in-law's good looks. His attorneys demanded a new trial at once, which was denied.

"Shall we ask for a new trial?" Mrs. Fox was asked by her attorney.

Mrs. Fox bit her lower lip. "Of course," she declared emphatically. "Five thousand dollars! That isn't justice."

Judge Scanlan granted the retrial forthwith. It will take place some time in September.

The jurors declared that throughout the trial and their deliberation they hadn't given the plaintiff's beauty a thought, all the more since they had promised the old millionaire's counsel that they would hear and see without prejudice.

"I guess they weren't influenced greatly by the evidence either," was Mrs. Fox's only comment.

Attorney William Severin declared that jurors had been approached by enemies of Fuchs who attacked the millionaire's attitude during the war and vilified him otherwise. He is making an investigation which may be brought to the attention of the court. Fuchs is of German ancestry and Mrs. Fox claimed that his desire to see his son marry a German woman had eventually broken up their home.

All the principals in the suit would have been named Fuchs, she testified, had not Carlton changed his name under war-time pressure.

In an impassioned address to the jury last week, the father-in-law's counsel had branded Fuchs as a "serpent in the Garden of Eden," who drove Carlton and Gladys from "a paradise of love."

New York, March 26.—Shanley's, a noted Broadway restaurant, one of the first "roistering palaces," has closed its doors.

"A big restaurant on Broadway can't make money now," John J. Moran, the manager, said as the lights went out last night.

WILL GO UNDER KNIFE

New York, March 26.—Congressman A. H. Vestal, of Indiana, was removed from the steamer Christal at quarantine tonight and hurried ashore in a motor launch, to be rushed to Washington, D. C., for an operation.

He was returning from Panama, where he attended recent fleet maneuvers.

DIVIDE OKLAHOMA
URGES RESOLUTION

Representative Boyer
Urges Course in the Lower House of Representatives of State.

Oklahoma City, March 26.—Oklahoma would be divided into two states under a resolution introduced in the lower house of the state legislature today by Representative Boyer, of Tulsa. Tulsa would be the capital of the eastern division of the state, which would be named "Tulshoma."

"These fellows think we are joking but this is a serious matter to the people on the eastern side," said Representative Boyer in presenting the resolution. "They want to get loose."

The resolution asks that the federal government be requested to divide the state following as near as possible the line between the following counties: Grant and Kay; Garfield and Noble; Logan and Payne; Oklahoma and Lincoln; Cleveland and Pottawatomie; McClain and Garvin; Stephens and Carter and Jefferson and Love.

In part, the resolution read as follows: "Be it resolved by the house of representatives that the legislature hereby consent that the congress of the United States may divide Oklahoma into two states and may admit said states into the union."

Copies of the resolution would be transmitted to the president and each branch of congress.

Jury Is Probing
Alleged Bribery
In Small Trial

Bench Warrants Have Been Issued for a Number of Witnesses.

Waukegan, Ill., March 26.—The grand jury investigation into reports of alleged attempts at jury fixing during Governor Small's trial for conspiracy here closed its first day's deliberations tonight with testimony from more than half of the 35 witnesses subpoenaed in its possession.

It was said the jury now had the most important of the testimony to be offered.

Leslie Small, son of Governor Small, and Colonel A. E. Inglish, his son-in-law, arrived today to testify, but were not summoned. They, as well as Werner W. Schroeder, counsel to the governor during his trial, are to appear tomorrow. State's Attorney A. V. Smith announced at the close of today's hearing.

Bench warrants may be issued for a number of witnesses who did not appear today, Mr. Smith indicated.

The testimony of William Riley, former saloon keeper of Antioch, Ill., who is alleged to have implicated John B. Fields, a Small trial juror, in a confession to State's Attorney Smith, involving bribe money, was offered today.

Joseph Hahn, a veterinarian, in the Small trial and said to have been implicated in Riley's confession, testified, as did William Musch, Jr., and his son, with whom Hahn lived. Charles Owens, a Chicago newspaperman, who is said to have spent weeks in investigating the charges of jury fixing, was sequestered with the grand jury for more than two hours.

DAY'S RECESS ORDERED IN HERRIN RIOT TRIAL

Marion, Ill., March 26.—(By The Associated Press.)—Judge D. T. Hartwell ordered a day's recess in the Herring riots trial today because of the critical illness of the child of one of the jurors. The child was said to be suffering from scarlet fever. This was the second recess caused by illness during the trial, the first having lasted eleven days.

HARRY PUCK MARRIES
MRS. RUBY THOMAS

Chicago, March 26.—Harry Puck, New York popular song writer, was married here Monday to Mrs. Ruby Thomas, former actress who obtained a divorce three weeks ago in Reno, Nev., from John Charles Thomas, the famed baritone singer.

A specific charge in the bride's complaint at Reno was that Thomas threw her pet cat out of a ten-story window of a hotel. She entered suit on grounds of cruelty.

FIVE MEET DEATH IN NEW YORK FIRE

Blaze Is Believed to Have Started by Drunken Man Tossing Lighted Cigar in Hallway.

New York, March 26.—A spectacular fire which today swept the Princeton apartments in West Fifty-seventh street, occupied chiefly by members of the theatrical profession, caused the death of five persons.

The blaze, believed to have been started by a drunken man tossing a lighted cigar in the hallway, soon attacked the upper floors of the seven-story building. Frightened tenants crowded out window sills. Several jumped.

There were many dramatic escapes and rescues. One of the most spectacular was that of Henry Zeigler, formerly a Texas cowboy, who came to New York to study art. After getting his wife and child to the street, he returned for some papers. Cut off from the stairs by flames, he used a bureau drawer as a raft he had used on the plains. Making this fast, he lowered himself to the street.

Ann Fries, an exhibition roller skater, was killed by jumping from the sixth story. Mrs. Margaret Lee, 65, and her daughter, Emily, a stenographer, were burned to death in their suite.

Two bodies, found later in the ruins, were identified as those of E. J. Linde, 60, and Gaston Mizoue, 26, a French war veteran.

36 Holes of Golf Feature of Day With President

Harding and His Wife Attend Moving Picture as Guests of Lasker.

St. Augustine, Fla., March 26.—Thirty-six holes of golf constituted today's portion of President Harding's vacation.

The chief executive was on the St. Augustine links early and he stayed late, and ate luncheon between rounds at the clubhouse. It was the first opportunity he has had during the vacation trip to get a whole day of golf and he made the best of it.

The morning round was played with former Senator Frolinghousen, of New Jersey, against Chairman Lasker, of the shipping board, and Edward B. McLean, of the afternoon round the president paced with Charles E. Dawes against Chairman Lasker and Rev. Schley, vice president of the Chase National Bank of New York.

The president and Mrs. Harding tonight attended a motion picture show arranged in the main dining room of the hotel by Mr. Lasker.

The prospects tonight were that there would be more golf tomorrow, but there was a possibility that the president might have some conferences.

DR. LAWTON IS MADE PRESIDENT OF LANDER

Greenwood, S. C., March 26.—Rev. R. O. Lawton, of the chair of Bible at Lander college, was chosen acting president of the college to succeed the late John O. Willson at a meeting of the board of trustees here today.

Mr. Lawton is 42 years of age and a native of Hampton county. He is a graduate of Wofford college and Vanderbilt university and was licensed to preach by the Charleston district conference in 1904. Before becoming a member of the faculty of Lander college he served pastorates in Arizona, California, North Carolina and South Carolina.

Sketch of 'Divine Sarah' First Wanted to Be Nun

SARAH BERNHARDT

Noted actress dies in arms of her son, after long and distinguished career.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Madam Sarah Bernhardt, who at 70 years of age seemed still a girl, was known to every land as "the world's greatest actress." What dissent there might have been to this estimate, and however far her detractors ventured in their attempts to minimize her right to that distinction, the numberless admirers of the "Divine Sarah" remained convinced that never before had the stage produced an actress capable of soaring to such heights in the realm of emotional drama.

The work of Mme. Bernhardt was best where a theme afforded the greatest opportunity for a display of her powerful emotions. At the height of her career this form of acting, based principally on love, hate and jealousy, held the predominant place now dedicated to character delineations, and Bernhardt never was surpassed, her critics say, in this emotional school. Hundreds of parts she either rewrote or created to suit herself, seldom being content to act them as interpreted by others.

The long life-story of Bernhardt is almost legendary. Closely woven with dramatic incident, off as well as on the stage, it was set down by herself in a lengthy volume published many years ago, and as one of her critics has said, "through the pages of the book peers the face of a woman, a little tired, weary of her own reputation, and blessed with more than her share of the vanities of the sex." As she and others have told the story, it is summed up here:

The date of her birth, the record of which was destroyed in the flames of the Commune in Paris, was commonly accepted as October 22, 1834. Her mother was Dutch and Jewish, and her natural father a French official.

Wanted to Be Nun.
As a child Bernhardt spent much

Hugo's "Ruy Blas," and above all as Zola's "Le Capitaine Corcoran." Then came the Franco-Prussian war. Bernhardt increased her popularity by becoming a war nurse. In 1871 she was made a life member of the Comedie Francaise. She clashed repeatedly with M. Perrin, the manager, over the roles she should take, and once in a fit of pique fled from the theater and decided to give up the stage. She plunged into sculpture. Her first statue, "After the Storm," finished some years later—won a place in the Salon. She returned to M. Perrin only to break with him again, incurring a forfeit of 4,000 pounds, which she paid.

She invaded England, receiving a tremendous ovation, then toured Denmark and Russia. Next she came to America, where her success was instantaneous. She toured the United States and Canada eight times in some 35 years, and appeared several times in the larger cities of South America.

Breaking with the theatrical syndicates, which denied her the use of their theaters when she refused to come to their terms, she was compelled to appear on one of the American tours in tents, convention halls and armories. She vowed never to appear in a theater again, but on subsequent visits she came to terms with the syndicates.

Loss of Her Right Leg.
The great actress was a grand-mother when she last appeared in America, and had suffered amputation of her right leg. Upon her arrival in New York, October, 1910, it was evident to the group of friends and admirers who gathered to welcome her that she walked with extreme difficulty.

While playing in New England she contracted a severe cold which prompted her to take a trip south for her health. A few weeks later she underwent an operation for infection in the kidneys, and although more than 70 years of age, she enjoyed complete recovery and remained in America for several months.

The injury to her knee which compelled the amputation of her leg in 1915 was attributed to many different causes. For years before the operation the plays in which she appeared were altered to hide the fact that she was able to walk only with great difficulty. The operation was performed in Paris, and upon her recovery she reappeared on the stage to receive the greatest ovation of her career. Her manager announced that henceforth she would interpret only motionless roles.

During the world war Bernhardt made several trips to the French front and gave a number of performances for the soldiers. This, she devoted to the "incomparable event" of her life.

The memoirs of Bernhardt sedulously avoid any mention of her private experience, and this is the middle of the bulky volume does she mention casually the existence of a son. One of her critics declared that she never loved a man and the man who could understand her.

"There was in her," he continued, "the making of a super-woman, and although she was a woman, she was the greatest intellectual potentate of her time, the super-man, who alone could hold her, never entered her life."

Years ago a jealous rival of her theatrical career published a satire entitled "The Story of Sarah Bernhardt," in which the joys and sorrows of her life were depicted. She was depicted as a woman who was loved and hated, and who was loved and hated by the world.

In 1882 the actress was married to Jacques Damala, a handsome Greek who had made a name in the theatrical world through his work in "The Immortal." He later took a minor part in one of her plays, but after a year on tour they separated. Later she took him back to her home and named him through a fatal case of consumption.

Mme. Bernhardt's natural son, Maurice, showed no inclination to follow the profession of his mother, and after spending a short time in the French army, he married a Russian princess. She died after bearing him a daughter, and Maurice Bernhardt took a Parisienne as a second wife.

Many stories have been told of the fabulous sums accruing to the famous actress, especially in America, but authenticated figures show that the gross receipts of each tour were in the neighborhood of $500,000, of which she usually received fifty per cent. A large part of her earnings were reinvested in theatrical enterprises, and at one time she owned or controlled half a dozen playhouses in Paris.

Of the more than 200 parts Bernhardt essayed during her long stage career, perhaps the boldest experiment of all was the title role in a French production of Hamlet, which met with such unmistakable success that she was prompted to appear again as a man in "L'Aiglon." Her repertoire, in addition to the plays mentioned, included "John of Arc," "Fedora," "Adrienne Lecouvreur," "Sappho," "Theodora" and "Hernani." Her greatest success, however, reached the boulevards in the performance at L'Aiglon theater was stopped in the middle of the first act and money to patrons refunded, Paris.

Laughter in the gay Paris cafes where Mme. Bernhardt once was queen grew still and gayety was dampened when the news of the passing reached the boulevards. The performance at L'Aiglon theater was stopped in the middle of the first act and money to patrons refunded, Paris.

Beauty Specialist Tells Secret.
A Beauty Specialist Gives Home-Made Recipe to Darken Gray Hair.

Mrs. M. D. Gillespie, a well-known beauty specialist of Kansas City, recently gave out the following statement regarding gray hair:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add one ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1-4 ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and will not rub off." (adv.)

had gone into mourning for the great Parisienne of them all.

Bernhardt had a severe relapse last Friday night and an examination showed that she was a victim of the live and injections of morphine, caffeine and camphor had kept her alive.

The first indication of Bernhardt's serious illness came about three months ago when she collapsed in the Edward VII. theater, while rehearsing for Sacha Guitry's new play, "Un Sujet De Roman."

Even as the life of the great artist was ebbing Monday morning, six movie men clattered into the house with their trappings, declaring that the film in which she was starring must be completed even though she died.

Bernhardt, while still ill, agreed to act for the films. The woman who had been a victim of the live and injections of morphine, caffeine and camphor had kept her alive.

Bernhardt was born in Paris, October 23, 1845, and was christened Rosine Bernhardt. Her father was a French Catholic, her mother a Dutch Jewess. Baptized in his father's faith, she received her early education in a convent school. At 15, she entered the great training school of the French stage, the Conservatoire. A year later, in 1861, she took only the second prize in tragedy. In 1862 she took another second prize in comedy.

Quits in Disgust.
Not were her regular stage debuts any more startling. She went from the Conservatoire to the Comedie-Francaise, and played a series of roles, but without recognition from the critics of the time. Quitting the "First French theater" in disgust, she was next seen in two plays at the Gymnase, a leading boulevard theater, but with no marked success. Disgruntled, she gave up the theater for a time.

In 1866 she came back to the boards at the Porte-St. Martin, with tolerable success. Encouraged by that and by the aid of influential friends, she made a try at the Odon. This time she was launched. In a variety of roles she rapidly came into public favor, her beauty and purity of her diction sweeping all before her. Finally, after a triumphal performance as the queen of Spain in Hugo's "Ruy Blas," the Comedie-Francaise, repentant of its earlier decision, called her back into its fold in 1872.

Bernhardt soon made her mark in an interpretation of "Hernani," which won her a most touching letter from its author, Victor Hugo. By 1875 her place at the Comedie-Francaise was secure. She had "arrived."

Becomes Idol of Paris.
Barely 30 years old, beautiful, ardent, in love with life, she rapidly became the idol of all Paris. Emperors, kings, great nobles and minor princelings vied for her favors. It was about this time that there came into her life one of her most famous suitors, as well as one of her most bitter enemies, the Emperor Don Pedro, of Brazil. In fact, her palatial home in the Boulevard Pereire in Paris is understood to have come from him.

Her successes, however, could not but excite the jealousy of her fellow artists in the Comedie-Francaise. Shortly after 1887, the administration of that august playhouse publicly demonstrated with her for "tentative" made outside the theater, to attract attention to herself by the employment of a universal activity, or by the eccentricity of her way of living.

Sarah, being Sarah, naturally fought back, with the result that she and the Comedie authorities finally agreed to an "armed truce" in order that her absence should not mar the company's invasion of England.

Her first reception in London was cold, but England's indifference soon turned to infatuation.

In 1890, quipped by a bad reception at the Comedie-Francaise, she left that august home in a huff literally slamming the door behind her. The Comedie authorities, suit her damages and won. She lost her rights as a "societate" of the theater, her reserve funds out of the theater's profits were seized, and she was condemned to pay 100,000 francs—good round $20,000 in those days. Nothing daunted, she started off on her own account, first to England and then to America. Next she made a triumphal tour through provincial France, Italy, Denmark, Russia and other countries of Europe.

During this, the first of her long and great tours, she met M. Jacques Damala, who acted in her company. She married him in London in 1882.

Returning to Paris, she took over the direction of the theater De L'Ambigu, on the Boulevard, in the name of her son, Maurice. Who Maurice's father was, by the way, Bernhardt has never divulged.

In later 1882 Bernhardt created the title role of Sarah's "Fedora." The next year she bought the Porte-Saint-Martin theater. Revived her great success "La Dame Aux Camelias"—better known as "Camille"—in the United States—and undertook by way of change "Yama Sahib," by the poetic playwright, Jean Richpin.

Shortly thereafter Sardou wrote for her a pretentious historical drama entitled "Theodora," which ran 300 consecutive performances. Then came other trips to England and the United States, more lucrative even than the first.

The year 1893 finds her directress of the Renaissance, and with it begins the "Rostand period," perhaps the greatest of her career. In "The Kings," "Izelli," "The Wife of Claude," "Gismonda," "Magda," "Lorenzaccio," "The Faraway Princess," and the Samaritaine, she scored success after success. She was the uncrowned queen of Europe, nothing less. And as queen she acted, on the stage and off.

Those were the golden nights of the after-theater suppers at the old Cafe Brebant, at the corner of the boulevards and the Rue du Faubourg Montmartre, an old hostelry now fallen into decay. There, fresh from a new triumph at the Renaissance, Bernhardt would repair, flanked by the faithful Rostand, her manager, and perhaps one or two other men friends.

Barred Other Women.
Sarah would never allow another woman, no matter how highly concerned, to sit at her table. To suggest such a thing meant an immediate scene, better than the Renaissance could offer.

The old Maitre d'Hotel, now moved to a luxurious but more inn-like quarters in Montmartre, will tell the initiated many tales of the queen's caprices; there must be trifles in every dish, in the soup, in the sauce, with the chicken, and of course there was champagne in magnums.

And there Bernhardt held court to princes and grand dukes and emperors of Spain—the late Edward VII, then Prince of Wales, was no stranger to those parties—but let a German princeling appear, and Sarah would insult him so stingingly and publicly that it amounted almost to an international incident.

Although an imperious queen, Sarah later was capable of real queenly actions. One it was that she brought her great Italian rival, Duse, to play at the Renaissance, in order to introduce her to the Paris public in "Sister Duse," touched by the invitation, came and gave a magnificent series of representations of D'Annunzio's "The Dead City." In spite of the inevitable frictions of "Rostand's" Bernhardt and Duse remained affectionate friends to the end, each recognizing and admiring the genius of the other.

Remains Manager.
Soon after the visit of Duse, Bernhardt established the theater in the Place du Chatelet which today bears her name. She had contemplated a trip to the United States in the stage she interpreted all the plays of the latter Rostand period, "L'Aiglon" and the rest, and after the death of Edmond Rostand she continued to interpret the works of his son, Maurice. Her 1921 Maurice Rostand vehicle, "L'Aiglon," showed her as radiant as ever, "the golden voice" unimpaired. The offering following that was "Regine Armand," written by her son-in-law, Louis Verneuil.

"L'Aiglon," which she created in 1900, and "Chatelet," 10 years later, are the two Rostand pieces where she is best known to America. Mention of her success in the great Shakespearean roles, as well, is inevitable. Not content with several representations at home and abroad of "Repentance" in the "Merveilles of Venice," she accomplished, shortly before the outbreak of the world war, the incredible "Tour De France" of playing Shylock. That remarkable performance came at about the time, when, after intense suffering over a long period, she was forced to submit to the amputation of her leg. Since that time the great actress had contented herself with less sedentary roles, as in "La Gloire."

Work During War.
Despite her advanced age, the 1914 outbreak found Bernhardt as ardent a patriot, as devoted a worker, for the cause of the wounded and orphaned as she had been when she organized her hospital relief work in 1870. During the thrilling years that followed she gave lavishly of her time and strength in organizing benefit performances for various war funds. Struggling all the time against ill health, she managed to keep up her foreign travels even in spite of war restrictions. The entry of the United States into the war in April, 1917, found her stretched upon a bed of pain, in Mount Sinai hospital, New York, where Rene Viviani and Marshal Joffre went to salute her and to celebrate with her their triumphal welcome.

Just how many fortunes Bernhardt ran through in the course of her remarkable career probably will never be known. Lavish to a fault in caring for those she knew and loved, she was always short of money. The year 1922 found her still touring the provinces of France and the smaller European countries. She had contemplated a trip to the United States in the fall of 1922, but was forced to take a long rest at her property of Bellepue, near St. Malo, on the Brittany coast. It is there that she constructed her own tomb, a fine mausoleum looking out on the sea.

Sculptress and Painter.
Besides being at the head of her own profession, Bernhardt was an amateur sculptress and painter, exhibiting her works in several salons. She received honorable mention for sculpture as far back as 1876, and was elected an "officer of the academy" of public instruction and the fine arts. Later she received the red ribbon of the Legion of Honor, and in 1921 became an officer of that distinguished order, a distinction extremely rare for a woman.

Splendid Musical Program Entertains Woman's Club

A large and appreciative audience greeted Buel Risinger and a group of musicians from the Metropolitan theater at the regular meeting of the Atlanta Woman's club Monday afternoon and registered enthusiastic approval of the perfect orchestration of the Intermezzo from Cavalleria Rusticana and a rarely lovely interpretation of "Romance" by Rubenstein. Playing with Mr. Risinger were Wallace Jackson, concert master; William Uttermohlen, viola; Edward C. G. Richter, cello; and Joseph Del Greco, bass. The members of the Woman's club gave the performance an ovation expressive of their pleasure in the ineffable beauty of the rendition.

Lecture on Yellowstone Park.
The second half of the program offered the dual treat of moving pictures and a well-presented talk on the charms of Yellowstone Park. Mrs. Martha Hopkins, who has spent a number of years in the surroundings she described, entertained the audience as well as instructed them while showing a number of views of this choice bit of America, and recommended going into the park at the northern entrance as most conducive to a gradual acquaintance with the striking characteristics of this national playground.

The attention of the audience was called by Mrs. Boykin to the fourth annual Easter egg hunt to be given on the grounds of Washington seminary on Easter eve.

Chi Phi Tea-Dances To Begin Saturday.
The first of a series of spring tea-dances will be given by the Chi Phi fraternity of Georgia Tech on Saturday afternoon when the members and their pledges will entertain at the chapter house on North avenue, following the baseball game between the University of Pennsylvania and Tech.

The tea dances given by the Chi Phi's, which always follow the baseball and football games, are enjoyable occasions and assemble a large group of the younger set.

The chaperons for Saturday will be Mrs. Robert W. Davis, Mrs. T. P. Hinman, Mrs. Nora Northen and Mrs. Edward K. Van Winkle.

MRS. G. W. HALL SICK FOR YEARS

Wants Women to Know How She Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lima, Ohio.—"Indeed, your medicine is all you say it is I had very severe troubles such as women often have, and could do no heavy work. I was sick for several years, and from reading your ads. I finally decided to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now doing my own washing, which I haven't done for several years, and can walk long distances without those dragging pains and weak feelings. The Vegetable Compound is fine, and I never forget to say a good word for it to other women when they say they need something."

—Mrs. G. W. HALL, 539 Hazel Avenue, Lima, Ohio.

There are many women who find their household duties almost unbearable owing to some weakness or derangement. The trouble may be slight, yet cause such annoying symptoms as dragging pains, weakness and a run-down feeling.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for such conditions. It has in many cases relieved those symptoms by removing the cause of them. Mrs. Hall's experience is but one of many.

New Magazine For Southern Writers Alone

H. E. Hosman Announces Southern Literary Magazine to be Published.

The Southern Literary Magazine, a publication devoted to the interest of book-lovers and writers of the south, will soon be placed at the disposal of the public, according to announcement Monday by the Harman Publishing company, of Atlanta. The magazine will be published monthly by the Harman Publishing company. The aim of this new magazine, H. E. Harman, Atlanta poet and trade paper publisher, stated, will be to stimulate interest in books and literary work among southern people. The publication will be financed by Mr. Harman personally until it becomes self-sustaining.

The first issue promises to be exceedingly interesting to every lover of books and literary work. It will be beautifully illustrated with pictures of Indian life, drawn by the famous French artist, LeMoine, over 300 years ago. These drawings were recently discovered by Mr. Harman in an old library.

Stories and poems, the work of southern authors, will also be contained in this attractive issue. The history of a number of famous songs, biographies of authors and reviews of new books will be other interesting features. A sample copy will be sent free of charge to any one writing and requesting it. Mr. Harman urges southern people who are interested in the best literature to this country with the last of the initial issue immediately.

Major J. W. Downer, in command of the sixth field artillery, first division, has the distinction of serving overseas longer than any American army officer. He reached France early in August, 1917, and just returned to this country with the last of the army of occupation from Germany.

Mrs. Reilly Honors Pittsburgh Visitor.

Mrs. W. L. Reilly was a charming hostess on Monday when she entertained at a bridge luncheon at her home on Peachtree street complimentary to Mrs. T. T. Anderson, of Pittsburgh, the attractive guest of Mrs. William Oldknow.

The rooms where the guests were received were beautifully decorated to carry out the idea of Easter. The individual tables where luncheon was served had as lovely centerpiece clusters of Easter lilies. The favors were little rabbits and chickens.

The prize for top score was a pair of silver buckles for slippers and the consolation prize was a French compass case. The guest prize was an attractive vanity of gold and enamel.

Mrs. Reilly was lovely in a gown of black cordon crepe which was richly beaded.

Mrs. Anderson wore blue crepe de chine trimmed in henna. Her hat was a spring model of brown and gold.

Mrs. Oldknow wore a becoming afternoon gown of black crepe, with a black hat to match.

Military Frat Gives Dinner.

An enjoyable event of Monday evening was the informal dinner party at which the Seaboard and Blaine, national honorary military fraternity of Georgia Tech, entertained.

SEVERE PAINS AND SO WEAK

Florida Lady Says She Suffered Greatly, but Found That Cardui Helped Her, and She Got "Stout and Well."

Dady, Fla.—"For a long time I had trouble each month, and suffered a great deal, evidently some womanly weakness," says Mrs. E. E. Pagett, who resides here on Route 1. "I would have very severe pains down on each side and across my back, and feel so weak I would have to lie down, and then have a bad headache."

"I knew there was trouble somewhere, and with all the doctoring I had done, I didn't get relief. Teas and such didn't reach my trouble, so I decided to take Cardui."

"I found as the time came around, the pain was less, but I kept on till I took six bottles. I am stout and well . . . and give Cardui all the praise."

Thousands of other women praise Cardui, for beneficial results.

Cardui is a mild, harmless, vegetable tonic medicine, found valuable in the treatment of many common womanly ailments. If you suffer as many women do, don't let your troubles run on without doing anything for yourself. Take Cardui! Since it has helped so many, Cardui may be of valuable assistance to you, in regaining your health.

Mason First of Released Players to Leave Camp

Second Cut in Squad Is Not Looked for Until Crackers Start Exhibition Tour.

BY HENRY ALLEN.
(Special Staff Correspondent.)
Palatka, Fla., March 26.—(Special.)—It was pleasing news in the Cracker camp late this afternoon when Manager Otto Miller received a telegram from President Corbett to the effect that George (Lefty) Hornum, rangy first sacker, property of the Red Sox, was on the way to the training camp here. Only one more position is vacant on the Cracker squad. An outfielder is yet to be announced. He will be a class "A" man, and will report to the club on or before April 5.

Frank Mason, a third sacker, was the first Cracker candidate in the number of players upon whom waivers were asked several days ago by President Corbett. To be released, Mason was given his release here today at noon following the morning practice. He left this afternoon for his home in Baton Rouge, La., to continue his position with the Standard Oil company of that city.

Billy Barnaba, Milton Reed,

Next Cut Soon.
The next cut in the squad is not expected until the club starts on the road trip through North and South Carolina. Two or three more are expected to be given their release, then. While the squad is on the trip they will be joined by Glenn Killinger, brilliant third-sacker secured from Yankees. He will report at Waycross on April 3. "Shocks" Dowd, second baseman recently signed by the Crackers, will report later. When these players report it will necessitate another cut in the squad. The regular team will be seen in action the first time at Charlotte, and President Corbett is expected to join the squad there also.

The pitchers are showing a great deal of improvement every day and during the game today they were allowed to cut loose with all kinds of stuff. George Dumont, Bennie Karr, Manly Llewellyn and Dick Neihaus were the crew of flingers used by Manager Miller during the afternoon. Dumont and Karr had plenty of stuff, while Dumont had the ball breaking in every direction. He gave up four hits during the three innings that he worked on the mound. Karr gave up none. Neihaus one, and Llewellyn three. Practice games were in order again this afternoon and the Crackers managed to ease out a 2-1 victory over the Dumbells in six innings.

The practice games will probably be discontinued tomorrow after the players are released. Manager Miller is opposed to using the pitchers in the outfield and this course would be necessary. Barring practice in the morning and infield practice in the afternoon will probably be the routine to be followed by the Crackers beginning tomorrow.

Because of an injury to George Dumont's foot he will not be carried to Daytona to participate in the game with Daytona Thursday, according to the announcement made by Manager Miller. Bennie Karr, Dick Neihaus and Manly Llewellyn will make the trip. By the time the squad breaks camp here Sunday and leaves for St. Augustine for the first game on the road trip, everyone is expected to be in first class condition. The weather here is ideal and once the practice forced to be called off.

PENN STATE AND HARVARD WILL ENTER LOOP

New York, March 26.—(Special.) The Eastern Intercollegiate league may be an eight-team circuit next season. It is reported that Penn State and Harvard, both having independent basketball teams, have applied for admission to the major league, and there is a likelihood that their applications will be acted upon favorably. Representatives of the present members of the league—Yale, Princeton, Cornell, Columbia, Pennsylvania and Dartmouth—met next month in Philadelphia and will probably raise no serious objection to the enlargement of the intercollegiate except the disregard of precedent, and in view of the great success of the league during the season just past, will vote for the admission of the two.

Penn State has a team which is on par with any in the league, and while Harvard's success on the court has not been very marked since the restoration of the sport, Ed Wachter's system should bring results next season. The Crimson was one of the first teams in the intercollegiate when it was formed in 1901, but withdrew soon after because of the failure of the sport at Cambridge.

Bentley in Camp.
New York, March 26.—Jack Bentley is ready to exhibit his shoots today to the Giant training camp at San Antonio. The big lefthander arrived in camp last night. Both the Giants and the Yankees won their exhibition games yesterday, the former downing the White Sox 8 to 6, and the American leaguers defeating the New Orleans Pelicans 3 to 2.

Teams in South Atlantic Get Ready for Campaign

Mike Kelly Reaches Spartanburg and Expects to Have His Team in Splendid Shape.

Columbia, S. C., March 26.—Players from far and near have reported to the managers of the six teams in the South Atlantic association and work of conditioning for the long pennant scramble beginning on April 15 is under way.

Up at Charlotte on the extreme northern end of the circuit, 19 Hornets and would-be-Hornets reported to Manager Dick Hoblitzell. Hoblitzell expects to have most of all his prospects in camp by tomorrow.

Mike Kelly arrived in Spartanburg during the past week to take up the work of conditioning the Spartans after getting the jump on his players by warming up at Dawson Springs, Ky., with the Louisville Colonels of the American association.

Mike left Spartanburg immediately with the last breath of winter and had to lay up for a day or two to let Boreas get through with his rampage but immediately afterward put on his coat and hat and went to work. Kelly expects to have his team in splendid shape by the time the season begins.

Greenville Working.
Zinn Beck and his Greenville Spinners put in some hard work during the week, even taking the field during the cold snap. Reports from the Spinners camp say that Beck is lining up a goodly squad of pitchers in Paul McLeod, former Furman ace; Norman Lehr, of the Rochester Red Sox; Peck Williams and Ed Timney, of the Cotton States league; Gaines Padgett, who was a Spinner last year, and Watson, Ezelle and Henderson, South Carolina semi-professionals.

Scotty Alcock, of the Columbia team, has arrived with President Paul L. Foster, who is expected to be in the city for the regular practice. A number of first-class prospects have been lined up and the purchase of Guy Tutwiler from Memphis of the Southern association was announced. Pitchers Gardner, from the Three-I league, and Brett, from the navy, were among the squad reported and getting down to work during the week.

Down at Charleston Jack Coffey started his Pals working out the kinks announcing that among other arrivals in camp were Frank Repp, a veteran southpaw from Piquette, Pa. First Baseman Kieckhefer, formerly under contract with the Boston Americans, but last year in the Eastern league, was signed with the Pals. Pitcher Mickey Walker reported in shape to play, having played winter baseball in California.

Little has been heard from the Augusta club, but it is certain that Reilly will have his men in tip-top shape for the opening of the season. Many of them have been working out with Ty Cobb's Detroit squad for several weeks.

KELLISON IS AT VIRGINIA

Charlottesville, Va., March 26.—(Special.)—John S. Kellison, who is to assist "Greasy" Neale in coaching the University of Virginia's football team next fall, has arrived at the university for five or six weeks' work with the gridiron candidates in spring practice. Coach Kellison is an experienced coach and has been coaching the team since 1918.

For the last two days the football men have been put to work on a tackling dummy as though they were getting ready for a game to be played next month. Although the men will be turned loose all summer, Coach Neale has been seen to it that they are to get a thorough drilling in football fundamentals this spring.

With Coach Kellison on the bench, Field to look after the football prospects, Coach Neale has been able to give his time more fully to baseball, but for the hour from 5 to 6 o'clock, he is still taking over the pitching chasers after the boys on the diamond have gone back to dress.

Most time is being given to drilling the men in a system of defense against both open and closed attacks. Though the squad has not been out a full week, they quickly got down to stiff work.

Coach Kellison was an assistant of Coach Neale for the last five seasons and takes charge of the line while the head coach develops the back field. The two men played together on West Virginia Wesleyan.

LARRY GARDNER IS ABOUT TO LOSE OUT
Lakeland, Fla., March 26.—(Special.)—"If sitting on the bench is a soft job in baseball, this is going to be an easy season for me."

That is the comment of Larry Gardner, the new third sacker of the Cleveland team, in action. Fisher is attracting the notice of scribes with the Washington club in training at Tampa, Fla.

Fisher comes up from the St. Joseph club of the Western league, where his batting average of .359 called the scouts to look him over.

Fisher's batting changed his baseball future. He broke into the Western league as a pitcher, but his slugging caused the club bosses to convert him into an outfielder.

He has the build and the style to make a great hitter. He weighs 175 pounds in trim, stands firmly at the plate and takes a long cut at the ball. He bats southpaw. His speed on the bases make him additionally valuable in the offensive department.

GRIFFIN SEES TYRUS TODAY
Griffin, Ga., March 26.—(Special.) Preparations are complete for the big game to take place here Tuesday when Ty Cobb and his Detroit Tigers play the Rochester club of the International league.

The game is scheduled to start at 3 o'clock and the advance ticket sale indicates a record attendance. The teams are slated to arrive Tuesday morning, after playing in Athens today.

The 221 infantry band will be in the city all day, giving a public concert in the morning and playing at the game in the afternoon.

E. A. Seales, the man who is bringing the game here, has set the diamond at Southside park in splendid condition for the game and marked the grand-stand off in reserved sections, the tickets for which have nearly all been sold.

Net Stars to Invade.
New York, March 26.—Vincent Richards, of Yonkers, N. Y., and Francis T. Hunter, of New Rochelle, N. Y., two of America's "first net" tennis ranking, are considering a trip abroad this summer to compete in the British championships at Wimbledon. It was learned today, Richards has never tested England's historic turf, but Hunter reached the semi-finals there in the "world's championship" of 1921.

TIPS FOR GOLFERS
BY GEORGE O'NEIL
WE'LL JUST CHANGE YOU FOR A GOOD BALL, NOW

What Happens Here?
You may be one of those golfers who put into play an old worn ball—with smiles cut all over it—when you come to a water hole, not wishing to risk the loss of a good ball in the water. It is common practice for golfers to use such a ball for the hazard shot, after which it is immediately replaced by a good ball if it clears the water. O. K. That kind of golf is "safety first" for the ball all right, but let's see what about the matter of changing the ball on the second shot.

The ball must not be changed for the second shot after it has been safely driven across the water hazard. The ball must be touched, except for purposes of identification, when it is in play, and it is in play from the time it has been driven until it has dropped into the cup at the next green ahead. The player may change his ball only when it is out of play, which means between the time he has sunk his putt and the moment he tees up at the next tee.

How to Win at Golf
The only book that tells you how to win at golf. It is the only book that tells you how to win at golf. It is the only book that tells you how to win at golf.

BY NORMAN E. BROWN
The healthy sweating of young George Fisher is attracting the notice of scribes with the Washington club in training at Tampa, Fla.

Fisher comes up from the St. Joseph club of the Western league, where his batting average of .359 called the scouts to look him over.

Fisher's batting changed his baseball future. He broke into the Western league as a pitcher, but his slugging caused the club bosses to convert him into an outfielder.

He has the build and the style to make a great hitter. He weighs 175 pounds in trim, stands firmly at the plate and takes a long cut at the ball. He bats southpaw. His speed on the bases make him additionally valuable in the offensive department.

She was blonde and she was classy. And she winked a flirty glim. And her talk was jazz and sass. Full of pep and pizz and vim. She was supple, soft and slimmy. And she shook a flirty shimmy. And when she would murmur "Gimme." She could have the world from him.

Such a set of ducky-doodles! Such a jumpy-jumpy pair! How she spent his dough in coolets! How he never turned a hair! Oh, the mushy words of over-enthusiasm! They exchanged in balmy, delectable, Till she chanced to pop her spearmint! How he shook her then and there!

Yes, and speaking of perfect behavior, the French boxing federation claims that Mickey McTigue's winning over Bat Siki was lacking in etiquette. Unless Joe Beckett comes along with his native "explanations," this will stand as the merriest jest of the year in sport. Nobody will stickle over McTigue's etiquette in view of Siki's own neglect of manners ever since he beat Carpenter.

Had McTigue used a baseball bat the end would have justified the means.

Siki held a personal pogrom on Carpenter who cried and whimpered for a month. Then he dodged half a dozen chances to field Siki again. And finally a mere midweeker takes away the title casually as reaching for the pickles.

The false alarm has been rung many times before. Bill Squires was one. Rudy Unholz another. Bomby Wells another. But they were "still" alarms. Carpenter was the one and only 4-11 false alarm and a special call for a dozen engines.

TWO WOMEN ARE HURT IN BLAZE IN CHICAGO
Chicago, March 26.—Two women were injured when they leaped from upper stories of their burning home here early today. Mrs. Agnes Barber, 70 years old, jumped from a third-story window into a policeman's overcoat, used as an emergency life net. The coat was ripped apart, but Mrs. Barber sustained only a broken leg.

JOHNSON WINS WILSON AND BY KNOCKOUT O'DOWD DRAW

Boston, March 26.—Floyd Johnson, of Iowa, knocked out Ray Thompson, of New York, in 20 seconds here tonight. The Iowa heavy-weight sent Thompson reeling to the floor with a punch to the jaw after 12 seconds of milling and the New Yorker stayed down until the count of eight. A blow to the right temple felled him for the last time. Johnson entered the ring weighing 195 pounds and Thompson scaled 188 pounds. The two shook hands and Thompson led with a left for Johnson's face. The latter countered with a blow to Thompson's heart that sent the New Yorker back. Johnson shot right to the jaw and Thompson went down in a heap. Twelve seconds only had elapsed. Fight was counted before Thompson arose.

Thompson, shaky but willing, closed in as if in an attempt to clinch. The Iowa's right hand crashed against his left temple and he sank to the floor—knocked out. A brief 20 seconds saw the end of the fight.

Track Meet Correction.
The result of the grade school preliminary meet as reported Saturday was Davis school 6th grade 2782, and the Davis 7th grade 294, but should have been Davis 7th 2781 and the Davis 6th 294, which gives the 7th grade third place in the Saturday's meet, instead of seventh place in the original report.

Purses at Charter Oak.
Hartford, Conn., March 26.—Early closing events on the grand circuit card for Charter Oak park track, September 3 to 7, have been allotted $20,000, an increase of $1,000 over last year, it was announced today. The early close are the Charter Oak stake for 3-12 trotters, $10,000; Yankee purse, free-for-all trotters, $5,000; Soly Memorial purse, 2-07 trotters, $1,000; Wheelwind purse, 2-08 pacers, $4,000; Flash purse, 2-10 pacers, $3,000; Acorn purse, 2-20 class for three-year-old trotters, $2,000; Nutmeg purse, 2-year-old trotters, $2,000.

PILES CURED WITHOUT SURGE Y
An instructive book has been published by Dr. T. W. Hughes, the noted rectal specialist. This book tells how sufferers from piles can be quickly and easily cured without the use of knives, "hot" iron, electricity or a 4-11 false alarm. It tells how to cut or burn, or use of confinement, and how to get hospital bills to pay. This book is free to persons afflicted with piles. Examination and consultation free.

Telephone Construction Plans Well Under Way

Atlanta's telephone construction programme for 1923, which will cost more than $1,277,000, is well under way.

The illustrations in this advertisement give a splendid idea of the character of telephone extensions and additions in progress in many sections of greater Atlanta.

This particular job is on the East Point road and the underground work consists of about 8,000 feet of 455 pair, 19-gauge underground trunking cable extending from McCall's crossing to Fort McPherson.

The overhead work consists of stringing a 200-pair, 19-gauge aerial trunking cable from Fort McPherson to East Point, a distance of three miles.

The entire project, when completed, will represent an expenditure of $70,000, and will provide ample trunking facilities between East Point and the other central office for several years.

An underground conduit entrance will be constructed for a distance of one block at the East Point office and the new trunking cable connection will be complete.

The telephone workers on this job have pulled in an average of 2,400 feet of underground cable per day, strung an average of 2,800 feet of 200-pair aerial cable per day and averaged one straight splice of 200-pair cable each day.

This is only part of the work to be done during the present year to meet the present demand for service and provide for Atlanta's future telephone needs.

Prep League Baseball Season Will Open Today

Two Games Will Be Played On Piedmont Park Diamond; Brisbane Field Given One

Marist Meets Tech High and Commercial Plays Boys' High at Piedmont—University and Fulton at Brisbane.

BY ROY E. WHITE.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock the 1923 prep baseball season will be lifted when four games will be played on various diamonds around the city. Piedmont park will be the scene of two of the games. Decatur will see one and the other will be played at Brisbane park. Marist will meet Tech High on the northwest Piedmont diamond, while Commercial will battle Boys' high on the southwest diamond. G. M. A. will meet Decatur at Decatur, and University will play Fulton at Brisbane.

Probably the most interesting game of the quarter will be between Marist and Tech High, inasmuch as these two teams have shown the most promise during the practice season. The Commercial Boys' High game will also be an interesting affair, since both are about on a par as far as real strength is concerned.

It seems that the prep league is in for a good season and if the practice season has counted for anything, then a banner campaign is certain. The teams have gotten in shape much better than was expected, despite the weather conditions of the past two weeks.

All of the teams, with the exception of G. M. A. and Decatur, have played practice games, either with Tech or Oglethorpe, and from a comparison of these scores it will be seen that at least six of the eight teams are very near equal in strength.

Trophy for Winner.

A trophy will be presented to the winner of the pennant and also a suitable trophy will be given to the league leading batter for the season. In years past no trophy has been awarded, but at a recent meeting of the league members, two trophies were offered, in case a certain ball was adopted.

The umpires for this afternoon have been named as Lyle Koehler, Donaldson and Hawkins, a very capable set of arbiters. Each of the four named has seen umpiring service before and they were very carefully selected from a long list.

A pitcher's battle is very likely in the Tech High-Marist game. "Speedy" Steer, former Boys' High and World's Fair hurler, will do the chinking for the Smiths, while John Bradley will hurl for the Marist nine. Bradley recently held Boys' High hitless in five innings of a practice game and Steer gave a very creditable showing against Oglethorpe.

Good Umpires.

In the selection of umpires for the season, the prep league members proceeded slowly, because only the best were to be picked. Lewis Koehler has been umpiring in Atlanta for the past seven years and his decisions have never been questioned. He was one of the officials of the league last year.

Donaldson has also seen service in the prep league before and was in the Southern league umpiring staff two years ago. Donaldson knows baseball and how to handle a game.

Cy Hawkins has never seen prep service before as an umpire, but he is officiated at all of the Sunday games at Fort McPherson last year. Cy has played professional ball and should make a capable umpire.

Irish Lyle, a former prep league baseball star, is going into his first year as an umpire in the organization.

There will be no admission price to the games this afternoon.

Powder Springs Wins.

Powder Springs, Ga., March 26.—(Special.)—Powder Springs was victorious over Seventh A. M. nine, for the second time this season, by a score of 5 to 3. Each team played game up ball throughout the entire game.

Scott, for the locals, pitched a good game. A huge crowd of fans turned out.

BENNING NINE DEFEATS GA.

Fort Benning, Ga., March 26.—(Special.)—In a pitchers' duel here this afternoon "Hi" Davis, veteran infantry slab artist, rubbed elbows with the University of Georgia batters and came out with two hits secured off his delivery and the Benning outfit evened games with the Bulldogs, 3 to 2.

It was one of the best played games at the government post in many moons, despite the fact that McMullin, infantry short fielder, made four errors and Fountain, at second, two. Davis was in rare form and the hard-hitting Georgia hitters could not diagnose his ball and went down into defeat.

Hodges, the first mar to face Davis, found the infantry mound laid for a double, but after that "Hi" did not let the boys feel his offerings for anything. It was not so much Davis as it was the excellence of the fielding of the infantry team, despite the errors mentioned, which figured in both the runs that the college legions secured. Captain Clarke, of the Bulldogs, was the only other man to find Davis for a safety and that was in the eighth frame.

It was the home run of Fountain in the sixth inning just after Chambers had given Olmstead a pass to the initial sack that won the game. The Benning field captain got under the ball and sent it screaming past the outfielders and had nothing to do out trot to home, bringing in a man with him. The infantry secured another run in the eighth on an error by Allen, Olmstead coming in from the third sack on what should have been an out. The last run was scored in the eighth inning.

Chambers was no slouch at twirling either. The Georgia yearling recruit was working well and although he did not give up but three bingles, one of them played havoc.

Petrels and Yale Battle On Macon Diamond Today

Oglethorpe Baseball Squad Is in Only Fair Condition for Encounter With Eli.

BY BILL MORROW.

Fourteen Oglethorpe players, together with the student manager and coach, will leave this morning for Macon where they will open their collegiate season with a game with the famous Yale nine this afternoon. The Yale athletes are holding their spring training in the Central City and though reports have been from the camp, it is generally understood that the present nine compares favorably with those of past Yale forces.

The Oglethorpe delegation is in fairly good physical condition but the past rainy spells together with the cold snaps have necessitated too many practices days, so the Petrels are liable to suffer from lack of work on the diamond. The pitching staff has rounded into pretty decent shape during the past week and should give the Yale battery a little trouble.

With the Petrel coach, Frank Anderson, and the student manager, John Varnedoe, will go the following players: Hamel and Porter, catchers; Willis and either Humphries or Pease, pitchers; David, first baseman; Parrtridge and Maurer at second and short, respectively; Hafele, third base, and an outfielder of Bryant, Parrish and Kemp, Wallace, Lindsey and Wall will accompany the team as reserves.

Infield Looks Good.

The Oglethorpe infield appears to be stronger than that of '23. The second bag seems to be in good hands and short is not troubling the Petrel director. With David at first, Parrish and Maurer around the second corner and Hafele or Wall at third, a fast and fairly steady combination is the result.

The outfield was recently strengthened by the shifting of Bryant to center field. Bryant will rotate with Hamel and Porter behind the bat, and while not on duty in that section will play in the garden with the combination of Parrish and Kemp. Ross Kemp appears to be slated for a year. Last season he was injured and did not get to exhibit his best but this year he is in good shape and for the past week has been accounting for some fairly third-sacker, in the best. Parrish is starting his first season under Petrel colors and his record of prep activities points to a good exhibition by this boy.

"Lefty" Willis is slated to start in the box for the Petrels. Willis has pitched some good ball during the training period and should be able to show them across with some dazzling twirls.

Yellow Jackets Facing Hard Row Will Battle East's Best Teams

BY JOHN STATON.

Eight games in about as many days, that is the little bit which the Tech baseball team will endeavor to accomplish beginning with Penn State on Wednesday and ending with the Dartmouth team on April 7.

Coch Clary, while admitting that it was a stupendous undertaking, nevertheless feels confident of the outcome.

"We expend more energy and work each day at practice than it takes to go through the hardest kind of a game. My men have been working so hard all spring that a match game seems like play or a day off to them.

The whole team waked up to the realization of the schedule shortly after the first get-together, and ever since that date, weather permitting, every man interested in any way in the baseball team has given his best and then a little more," he said.

"My men trouble will be keeping pitchers in readiness. But that should not afford so much worry, for I have now enough good ones working out to start a new one most every day," he continued.

"As for the strain, and wear and tear on the nerves, my men are accustomed to that. Summer baseball, and the constant match games have hardened their nerves to a state where they can play every day and never feel nervous fatigue. Of course, we are liable to get whipped any day, but it will be because they have the better team, or get all the breaks."

There can be no doubt but that the cream of the east will play in Atlanta within the next two weeks. With Penn State, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Dartmouth in a row, the fans of Atlanta will be offered a baseball feast the like of which has never been seen before. Keyes, sending three different sections of the country, these teams will bring new ideas and methods of playing ball into the local scene. For some time past, these teams have been more or less definitely settled. But, in the match game last Saturday he used the team which seemed to be his favorite, and which seems to have all the elements of team play and natural ability. But no man on Coach Clary's team has seen more than a glimpse of the team without the goods. And, Coach has plenty of reserve material to throw into action, should one of his choices fail him.

Unless further developments come to light before Wednesday the team will most probably line up with Edwards on first, Dencke at second, Turner at short, Raup at third. The outfield will consist of Albright; left field; Morgan center; and Warner right. Spangler is close upon the heels of Albright and Warner, and will no doubt see service in these games. Bratton and Palmisano will do most of the receiving, with Gasen held in reserve. Coach Clary depends largely on Hines, Allison and Thompson to win his games for him. But he will also keep Enloe, Tamen and Speed warmed up.

Hafley is a second baseman and probably will play this season. Many are wondering if Killefer will endeavor to buy Chief Leudimore. Killefer is strong for Leudimore's work, which never has been fully appreciated here. The Angels now have two complete sets of infielders which is more than they need.

The impression seems to be quite general that the new deal will have a wholesome effect on baseball. It means for one thing that Seattle will have money backing, as well as the guidance of baseball men who understand the business. Also, it will probably bring Los Angeles and Vernon closer together by enabling the respective owners to reach a better understanding.

ATHLETICS TO PLAY BARONS

Birmingham, Ala., March 26.—(Special.)—Connie Mack, coach of the Philadelphia club, against the forces of Joe Dunn at Rickwood in a three-game series this week. Wednesday will mark the opening of the season and Friday the closing.

The meeting will not be the first of the season for the two teams, the Barons having met the Athletics in Montgomery a week ago, the "A's" winning by a close margin.

Fans who journey out to the "Wood for the series this week will see a team representing Philadelphia that is composed of luminaries of the American circuit of no little standing. In fact, sport scries all over the country are picking Connie's aggregation as the "dark horse" entry of the loop.

Ed Rommel, leading pitcher of the American league, will doubtless oppose the Barons in one of the games, while Sammy Hale, $75,000 third baseman of the Quaker Citizens, will appear in the line-up for all three games, it is thought.

Click Galloway, star shortstop of the American league, is said to be going in mid-season form with the team in Montgomery and Chick will be watched closely while in Birmingham. Then Hauser, Perkins, Mathews and Miller are other stars who will be here for the series.

To match this array of talent, Ross Dunn will send forth his best and will probably give the big toppers enough to interest them throughout the stay. In fact, the Barons gave Mack a scare when in Montgomery recently when they took a two-run lead in the first frame.

"Whitehill, Cox, Bates, Stewart and Morrison will all probably get a chance to show their wares in the pitching department for the Barons before the week is over.

The final contingent of the American army of occupation, heralded as "positively the last," reached New York March 6 from Germany. The small force, comprising one lieutenant and 16 enlisted men, were used "to police up the Rhine" after their commander, Major-General Henry T. Allen, and his comrades left.

LIONS ARRIVE FOR BATTLES

Penn State's baseball squad, in charge of Hugo Beslek, their famous grid and diamond coach, and his assistant, Glenn Killinger, recently signed to play the infield for the Atlanta Crackers this season, will reach Atlanta this afternoon for their tilt with Georgia Tech and Oglethorpe this week.

The Nittany Lions — as Penn State's athletic teams are known — will have but little time for practice before stepping against the Yellow Jackets, as the first of the games this week is slated to be called Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock on Grant field. These same teams will battle Thursday afternoon at the same hour. After two struggles with Frank Anderson's Oglethorpe Petrels, the Lions will begin their return trip.

The squad will probably be minus the services of two regulars, Carl Hare, veteran catcher, is at present on an inspection trip, that will not end until Wednesday night, while "Toots" Wise, fairly third-sacker, is nursing a pulled tendon in his leg.

Head North Sunday.

Heading north on Sunday, the Blue and White team will play at Charlottesville, Va., for a game with the University of Virginia on Monday, April 2, and then go to Norfolk to meet William and Mary college on Tuesday, the third. This will be the final game of the trip.

Hare will be under orders to head off immediately upon the conclusion of the inspection trip, but he will miss the games with Georgia Tech at least. Wise may be able to go along in a pinch-hitter role. Hollobaugh and Kain, utility pitchers, are making the trip. The rest of the squad is composed of Captain Koehler, left field; Polm, center field; Beck, right field; Fortna, first base; Reed, second base; Leoffler, shortstop; Frank, third base; Mahoney and Euwer, utility; and Miller, Black Longhurst and Fixter, pitchers. Much is expected of Bill Miller, veteran hurler, and he will probably hurl in three of the games on the trip.

KRUG PILOTS LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles, March 26.—(Special.)—Marty Krug signed the managerial contract offered him by President Joe Paterno, succeeding Red Killefer as manager of the Angels.

Patrick expressed the opinion that Krug is temperamentally and otherwise fitted for the position and likewise that he would prove popular with the players and public.

Just before leaving to take charge of the Seattle squad, Killefer met Tex Westerly at the park and signed him to a Seattle contract for the coming season. Prior to the coming to the coast of Red Smith and Charley Deal, and the fact that Willie Killefer, Westerly was regarded as the best third sacker in the circuit.

Wasn't Used Much.

But for some reason Seattle didn't use him much, and this winter sold him to Wichita Falls, Texas. The player refused to report, and Killefer was glad of the opportunity to secure him for Seattle again. It is said that the San Francisco club has been fitted for the position and likewise that he would prove popular with the players and public.

Just before leaving to take charge of the Seattle squad, Killefer met Tex Westerly at the park and signed him to a Seattle contract for the coming season. Acquire Batting Eyes.

Boston, March 26.—The Red Sox and the Pirates have acquired their batting eyes. They made 25 hits, five of them homers, in an exhibition game at Hot Springs, Ark., yesterday, which Pittsburgh won 12 to 11. At St. Petersburg, Fla., several of the Braves, including Jack Conlon, former Harvard star, are underweight as result of their severe training.

New York, March 26.—There was continued liquidation and a further sharp break in the cotton market today. After selling off to 27.50 early, July contracts rallied to 28.50 but reached the lowest figures of the day and movement in the latter trading under renewed liquidation. It sold at 27.50 on an even cent below Saturday's closing quotation and closed at 27.52 with the general market closing irregular 49 to 103 points net lower.

The market opened easier 3 to 25 points off in response to relatively weak Liverpool cables and a continuation of the selling movement which had been in progress late last week. May soon broke to about 29.00 and October to 24.50 with the active months showing net losses of 24 to 25 points. A better demand developed at these figures which was probably encouraged by a belief that labor troubles in New England would be averted; completed by continued cold weather in the south; claims that holders of spot cotton were refusing to follow the decline and a belief that foreign had been placed in a decidedly firmer technical position as a result of liquidation.

Prices rallied to 29.52 for May and 25.19 for October during the middle of the day, making net advances of 8 to 20 points on demand tapered off and the market weakened again under a renewal of more or less general selling. If there was any fresh news factor connected with this decline it was very little commented on on the floor but there seemed to be very little support after the afternoon demand had been supplied and all months made new lows in the trading when May sold at 28.50 and October at 24.10, making net declines of 87 to 100 points on the active months and of 54 to 80 points on the new crop positions. The late months were relatively quiet and firm and January closed 20 points off from the lowest on covering while May closed at the lowest price of the day. Port receipts today 10,430; United States port stocks, 45,753; exports, 7,727, making 3,961,067 so far this season.

WIDE SWINGS IN MARKET.

New Orleans, La., March 26.—It was a session of extremely wide swings in prices in the cotton market today. At some stages there were strong upturns but the advances were only temporary and in the late trading the market turned wholly weak, finally closing at the lowest of the day, with net declines of 25 to 30 points. May closed at 27.50 and October at 24.50, making net declines of 25 to 30 points. Much of the selling was done in connection with further unfavorable talk regarding the results of the federal meeting in Washington and some of it, especially in the late trading, was done in sympathy with weakness in the stock market.

The opening was lower under a great accumulation over Sunday of buying orders in the hands of brokerage houses. But the advances helped to weaken the market and early losses amounted to 13 to 45 points, after which there was a rally to levels 10 to 20 points higher than the close of Saturday. For a considerable period it was a quick succession of bulges and breaks, the market soon after the middle of the morning standing at its best, at net gains of 25 to 45 points. May rising to 28.75 and October to 24.00. Most of the bulges were due to buying by realizing shorts but some of them were caused by too much rain over the belt, more especially in Texas, points in which state complaining that farm work was being interrupted.

In the early afternoon the tone was fairly steady but as the close drew near selling became very heavy and it carried prices 85 to 120 points off from the highest by the end of the day.

A DREAM OF A HOME

Here is a perfect dream of a home in buff brick on one of the most charming spots in Atlanta.

Years of experience have put into this house a combination of beauty, comfort and convenience that you will find elsewhere. The material and workmanship are the best and the surroundings are ideal, with carline in front and school churches and Masonic temple nearby.

House at 438 Stewart Avenue

This is one of the most attractive brick veneer bungalows in Atlanta. It has seven rooms and bath, including living room, dining room, breakfast room, kitchen and three bedrooms, with oak floors throughout and cement veranda floor, tile bathroom floor, medicine cabinet, built-in china closet and bookcases, ironing board folding into a cabinet, electrical connections in the basement of each room, mail box in which letters are deposited outside and received inside, a large basement with furnace installed, gas, electricity and hot and cold water. It is a corner lot, 51x200 feet to an alley.

All this for $9,500 on easy terms, with no mortgage to assume.

ROB T. H. CHAFFIN
Insurance Man Abducted, Bound and Gagged After Four Bandits Rifle His Pockets Monday Night.

Four motorcar bandits, working in true western style, effected one of the most daring highway robberies Monday night over to go on record in Atlanta.

T. H. Chaffin, agent for the American National Insurance company, while driving his car south on Harris street between Williams and Orme, was suddenly cut into by another car moving north, occupied by four men.

The men hailed him asking him "where he was going." Thinking they were friends he got out of his machine and walked over to the other car. When he did so one man stepped out of the front seat, placed a pistol at his side while another showed one menacingly into his face. He was warned to make no outcry.

He was then pushed into the rear seat of the car.

His patrons pause long enough on their way out to tell us how much they enjoyed the meal.

seat of the bandits' machine, gagged with a pocket handkerchief and his feet bound securely with a small grass rope.

His captors then drove to Piedmont park where they bound his hands and placed him up against the wall dividing the Piedmont Driving club property. Taking their time they went through his pockets securing approximately $50 in cash, the day's collection at his office.

Satisfied that they had relieved their victim of all his valuables they left him, bound hand and foot and gagged.

Finally Chaffin succeeded in attracting the attention of a passing motorist who cut the ropes about his hands and feet and removed the handkerchief from his mouth. He then made his way to Piedmont avenue catching a Peachtree-Piedmont avenue street car. Just as the car was moving off, Officer M. S. Barton drove up to pull a box at Fourteenth street and Piedmont avenue. Upon hearing Mr. Chaffin's story the two immediately searched the park but of no avail. They then rushed to police headquarters and made a report.

Mr. Chaffin stated the head of the gang represented himself as a government officer at first. Two of the men were masked, he stated, while riding on the rear seat were unmasked. He stated he believed he could identify at least two of them.

UNMASKED BANDIT

ROBS DRUG STORE.

A white unmasked bandit Monday night entered the store of Sam Franco, at the corner of South Pryor and Garnett streets, and held him up with a revolver, while he collected $30 from the two cash registers in the place, police were told.

According to Franco, the man walked into his store, asked for a cold drink, which was served him, and then for a penny box of matches. As Franco walked across the store to get the matches he found a "big bertha" pointed toward him.

The bandit told him to sit down on a stool near the soda fountain while he finished collecting all the money in the place. After cordially thanking Franco for his generosity, the bandit told him to stand in the middle of the floor, and that "if he looked around he would fill him so full of lead that he would need a traction truck for a hearse." Franco did not turn around to see where the bandit went.

Detectives L. D. Cody and M. C. Williams, however, are searching for him.
